

Elvis Presley Dead At 42 Of Heart Ailment

By LES SEAGO
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley, the one-time truck driver who as a rock 'n' roll singer was idolized by fans and denounced by preachers as the devil's tool, is dead of a heart ailment at age 42.

Doctors denied Presley's death was drug-connected.

Dr. George Nichopoulos, longtime physician to the swivelhipped, throaty baritone who was known as the "King of Rock 'n' Roll," said an autopsy revealed a constriction in one of the main arteries to the heart, which restricted blood flow and brought on a heart attack.

"What caused it? Any one of a number of things," he said following Presley's death Tuesday.

Nichopoulos said his patient, who carried about 175 pounds on a six-foot frame as a young man but recently had been reported grossly overweight, had been taking a number of appetite depressants, but did not have a drug problem.

Dr. Jerry Francisco, the Shelby County medical examiner, discounted rumors that Presley, who had been a virtual recluse at his white-columned Graceland mansion for 20 years, had suffered from a drug problem.

"There was no indication of drug abuse at all," Francisco said. "I was aware of the rumors and that is why I mention it."

Delbert "Sonny" West, who was a Presley bodyguard for 16 years, said in Chicago just hours before Presley died that the singer was heavily addicted to drugs and haunted by fears that drove him into seclusion.

Presley, whose recording of "Heartbreak Hotel" helped to put him on top of the entertainment world 21 years ago, was discovered unconscious at Graceland in suburban Memphis on Tuesday afternoon.

Presley was found dressed in pajamas and lying face-up in the red-carpeted bathroom next to his second-floor bedroom.

He was taken to Baptist Hospital in a Fire Department ambulance while Nichopoulos and emergency medical technicians worked to revive him.

The doctor said attempts to revive Presley, who appeared in 31 films — including "Love Me Tender," "GI Blues," and "Jailhouse Rock," continued because of a slight chance life still existed in his body.

"The reason we continued to resuscitate him was his pupils were constricted," the doctor said at a hospital news conference after an autopsy. "Usually in death, there's not enough oxygen and the pupils dilate."

"Heartbreak Hotel," the first hit for Presley, was released in January 1956. It was one of 45 records that sold more than one million copies, including "Hound Dog," "All Shook Up" and "It's Now Or Never."

Booming record sales and overflowing audiences at personal appearances made the entertainer who combined country-western, gospel and rhythm and blues one of the world's wealthiest entertainers.

When TV brought "Elvis The Pelvis" into millions of homes, church and parents' groups denounced the raw sexuality of his performance as a bad influence on children. His gyrating hips were only mildly suggestive compared to many of today's rock performers, but on the Ed Sullivan Show, he was shown only from the waist up.

Vernon Presley, the star's father, was taking his son's death "very badly," said family friend Dr. Elias Ghanem in Las Vegas.

Presley, whose new single, "Way Down," was at the top of Billboard's latest list of Hot Country Singles, was to have flown to Portland, Maine, Tuesday night to begin an 11-day tour of the Northeast and South.

Presley had played racquetball at his private court until almost 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Word of Presley's death swept across this city where he had lived since leaving his birthplace, Tupelo, Miss., at the age of 13.

Mayor Wyeth Chandler ordered flags in the city lowered to half-staff in memory of Presley.

Elvis was working as a truck driver after graduating from Memphis' Humes High School when he walked into Sam Phillips' office at Sun Records in 1955 to record "Blue Moon of Kentucky." The recording became a hit.

His career was largely the creation of a promotional genius, Col. Tom Parker. Presley made his appearances on the Ed Sullivan show after Parker became his manager.

When Presley was drafted in the 1960s, Parker capitalized on it — issuing a record album with the soldier-star's picture in uniform. He let photographers record the Army's shearing of the famous locks, a major media event that generated front page publicity around the world.

His fan club once had 400,000 members in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, England, France and Australia.

In Germany he met the daughter of an Air Force officer, Priscilla Beaulieu. They were married in 1967 and divorced in 1973. They had one daughter, Lisa Marie, 9.

Presley, who had rarely emerged from his mansion grounds in recent years except for performances, had been hospitalized at Baptist in April when he cut short a tour in Louisiana and returned to Memphis.

At that time, he was said to be suffering from exhaustion and intestinal flu.

In the past two years, he had also been hospitalized for eye problems and for what doctors described as a twisted colon.

Private funeral services were to be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Graceland with entombment at Forest Hills Mausoleum, about two miles from the mansion.

EPA Air Pollution Hearings Are Open

By DAVE AMEY
Herald City Editor

The chain of command between Mr. Average Citizen and officialism need not have been used at all to make public the PPG Industries odor hearing, according to an Ohio Environmental Protection Agency legal specialist.

"All of our hearings are open hearings, anyway," said Dick Brudzinski, who will serve as examiner at the 10 a.m., Aug. 26, pre-hearing conference. The actual adjudication hearing will be 10 a.m. Sept. 29, at the Ohio EPA office, 361 E. Broad St., Columbus.

While both hearings are open to the public, Brudzinski recommends that only the most interested parties attend what he called a "routine" pre-hearing conference where principals will be Mrs. Lawrence Wright, who filed a verified air pollution complaint against PPG Industries, and plant officials themselves.

At the pre-hearing, "we will see if anything can be worked out 'between the two parties,' he said, and 'we will discuss procedure which will be followed at the hearing' with regards as to who has to prove what.

Brudzinski said that no decision would be made at the pre-hearing unless both parties agreed to mediation. The three verified environmental complaints against PPG Industries will be resolved at the September 29 hearing, he said.

Members of a loosely knit coalition to clean-up the air around PPG Industries were told at one time that the scheduled hearings would not be open to either the public or the press.

In reaction, Pickaway County Commissioners L. Robert Liston, Donald Strous, and Carl Schein Monday sent a letter to OEPA Director Ned Williams to ask for a public hearing on the matter.

In the letter, in which they also asked that the open hearing be held in Pickaway County, they said that PPG officials had also indicated a desire to make the hearing public.

The commissioners said they were acting on behalf of 311 petitioners.

The hearing is expected to end years of sporadic bickering between PPG officials, who have installed $500,000 worth of pollution control devices at the factory, and neighboring residents, who still claim a variety of maladies from the plant's "toxic fumes."

Meeting with the citizens' group and PPG Industries officials on separate occasions last month, EPA attorney William Miller arranged a public meeting at the L-K Motel to "clear the air."

However, the meeting was cancelled for a still unexplained reason and the citizens group was led to believe that the EPA hearing would be open to only the immediate participants.

Carter To Nominate Johnson For FBI Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter plans to nominate Frank Johnson, a deep South judge with a strong civil rights record, as the next director of the FBI, knowledgeable administration sources say.

The White House was expected to announce today that Carter will send Johnson's name to the Senate, which must confirm his selection. The choice ends a seven-month search for a director to take charge of the bureau and its 8,000 agents.

Carter and Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell chose the 58-year-old federal district judge to succeed Clarence M. Kelley after rejecting four candidates recommended by a presidentially-appointed search committee, the sources said.

By choosing Johnson, a Republican, Carter and Bell may have a candidate who can sail through the Senate hearings with little, if any opposition.

But Sen James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee that will first consider Johnson's nomination, would not comment Tuesday night.

"I know the whole score," Eastland said, "and I don't leak stories. I have no comment."

Johnson's nomination is certain to please civil rights groups who assailed the bureau in the 1960s for allegedly ignoring beatings of black activists in the South.

That charge came while J. Edgar Hoover, the director, was carrying out a secret campaign to discredit the movement's chief leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Johnson's record seems to show a quality Bell particularly sought in an FBI director. The attorney general had said he wanted someone strong enough to control "the dominant personalities" in the bureau's hierarchy.

While Kelley was respected for his sincerity and good intentions, he was often criticized by congressmen and others who deal with the bureau for being too weak to control the old Hoover hands still holding powerful FBI jobs.

Kelley is retiring Jan. 1. His announcement last winter that he would step down followed criticism by Carter during his campaign for the presidency.

Appointed a federal judge in Alabama in 1955, Johnson has handed numerous victories to civil rights activists pressing suits before his court.

His judicial record has earned him bitter enemies in his home state, chief among them Gov. George C. Wallace, his one-time law school classmate. —

Brezhnev Says Carter Statements 'Sound Positive'

MOSCOW (AP) — President Leonid I. Brezhnev says some of President Carter's recent statements "sound positive" but he challenged him to translate them into "the language of practical deeds."

Brezhnev in a speech Tuesday welcoming Yugoslav President Josip Broz Tito picked up Carter's feeler toward the Kremlin in a speech last month in Charleston, S.C.

"If a good initiative appears anywhere, we are always ready to respond to it," the Soviet leader said, adding that the Soviet Union constantly seeks peace in its foreign policy.

Attempting to thaw the chill in U.S.-Soviet relations brought on by his human rights crusade, Carter offered to clarify some of his human rights statements to show the campaign is not aimed solely at the Soviets.

"Compared with the previous moves by the U.S. administration, these statements sound positive," Brezhnev said. "If there is a wish to translate them into the language of practical deeds, we will willingly look for mutually acceptable solutions."

Carter in his Charleston speech said there had been "negative" Soviet comments about his proposals for limitation of nuclear arms and "about our more general relations."

"If these comments are based on a misconception of our motives, we will redouble our efforts to make them clear," Carter said. "But if they are merely designed as propaganda to put pressure on us, let no one doubt that we will persevere."

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, indicated on Aug. 3 that the Kremlin was pleased with Carter's remarks.

Tito, who is en route to North Korea and China, arrived in Moscow Tuesday for his first visit to the Soviet capital in four years. Brezhnev welcomed the World War II guerrilla chieftain who successfully defied Stalin as the patriarch of the nonaligned nations and said in a dinner speech Tuesday night: "It is important to step up cooperation between the socialist (Communist) countries and the movement of nonalignment."

County, City Solons Meet

Pickaway County Commissioners met with Circleville City Council Tuesday to present a proposed plan for a solid waste transfer station.

L. Robert Liston, chairman of the board of commissioners, told members of the council that solid waste disposal is a city problem as well as a county problem.

He introduced Dwight Davis who described the operation of the transfer station. Liston noted the proposed station will not eliminate the private haulers, but will help them in the event the Barthelmas Landfill site is closed.

A tractor-trailer will transport compacted refuse from the station to disposal sites out of the county.

Liston asked council to study the proposal and then to meet with commissioners again to discuss cost sharing in the event the station is constructed.

Administrator Named For Ohio WIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Diane Poulton has been appointed administrator of the newly created Ohio Women's Information Service.

The service was inspired by Sen. Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, to inform women throughout Ohio of their rights and legal remedies to discrimination. The service was established by Ohio statute.

Ms. Poulton, as she prefers to be called, is publications editor and director of college communications for the College of Administrative Science at Ohio State University. She will begin with the women's service Oct. 3.

Renovation Of Fire House Considered By City Council

Restoration of the exterior of the Circleville Fire House No. 1 could cost approximately $15,500 city council members were told by architect Frederic A. Goodman Tuesday.

Goodman is a member of the firm of Weatherby and Goodman, the architects employed by the city to design an addition to the fire station. The addition would be living quarters for the firemen. The present living quarters would be utilized as storage space for equipment and trucks.

Weatherby and Goodman have recommended the present building be repaired in conjunction with the construction of the addition.

Last night Goodman told council the roof should be repaired, the gutter rebuilt, masonry tuck pointed and the woodwork painted. Cost of these projects was roughly estimated at $7,500. He also recommended the masonry be cleaned chemically rather than by sandblasting. Estimated cost of cleaning the structure was $8,000.

According to Goodman, sandblasting destroys the outer layer of the brick, its hardest part, and reduces the life of the structure.

Councilman Tom Wells said it would be much easier to repair the present building while it is still structurally sound than to find the money to build a new one.

In legislative action taken by the council, seven ordinances and one resolution were approved. They were:

Transfer of $2,100 from the federal revenue sharing trust fund to the Emergency Medical Team Fund to pay for gasoline and oil, medical supplies, other supplies, books and instructions.

Transfer of $1,500 from the general fund to the police department maintenance of equipment fund for repair of cruisers.

Transfer of $250 from the general fund to the furniture and fixture account of the police department.

Legislation to comply with the specifications for Fire House No. 2 as required by the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations, factory and building inspection division.

Transfer of $786 from the Federal Revenue sharing trust fund to an account within the fund to pay for the architectural services of Weatherby and Goodman.

Transfer of $100 from the federal revenue sharing trust to pay fee for application for certificate of plan approval of Fire House No. 2.

Transfer of $38,650 from the general fund for regular police and overtime salaries, of $85 to the furniture and fixture account, $1,200 to the maintenance of equipment account.

Transfer of $400 from the general fund to the acting bailiff account of municipal court.

Legislation authorizing the service director to advertise for bids and enter into a contract for the purchase of a 1978 dump truck.

Resolution accepting the amounts and rates authorized by the Pickaway County Budget Commission as follows: General Fund, $180,210; Police Pension Fund, $16,895; Firemen Pension Fund, $16,895.

In reports by council members, several complaints concerning growth of weeds in the city were aired. Lots particularly singled out were the former Borden Burger property on the Lancaster Pike, the field west of North Atwater Ave. and the former Smith property on South Court St. "I would like to see a little pressure put on these property owners to cut these weeds," Councilman Tom Wells said. Bob Kramer of the Pickaway County Health Department and Atwood Jones, director of the service department, indicated that steps are being taken to see the weeds are cut.

John Jenkins said he has received complaints from residents of the second ward complaining about a waste barrel being used by Drummer Boy Chicken Store. Jenkins said he was told that grease seeped from the barrel and ran down the alley behind the establishment. Kramer said he has talked to the manager of the restaurant about the problem and will check again today to make sure he is complying with the request of the health department.

Dixie Watters said that residents of the southend of Circleville are complaining about vandalism in an empty lot on South Washington St. He said that young people are throwing rocks, bottles and cans on the lot. Chief of Police Robert Temple reported that he is working on the problem and if necessary will put a foot patrolman in the area. He also reported he is working with city solicitor John Adkins on a curfew ordinance which will help the department police the area.

Atwood Jones announced that Van Camp Co. has begun paving of Clark Drive and will start the chip and seal on city streets program soon.

He also reported that painting crosswalks will begin soon. According to Jones, a meeting will be held Thursday with the Ohio Department of Transportation and Norfolk and Western Railroad officials concerning rebuilding the West Main Street Crossing.

Safety Director John McGinnis announced that the Hall-Adkins American Legion Post has requested permission to install a flag pole at Fire Station No. 2. A motion was made by Councilman David Goldschmidt to grant the permission.

Clyde Houseshell, chief operator of the new sewage treatment plant, said the facility is very close to opening and urged council to decide soon how many people would be employed. "We must know how many people will be working there before we can make any plans," Houseshell said.

Chief of Police Temple announced the new dispatcher has been employed. Terri Smallwood is the dispatcher. In answer to a question by councilman David Goldschmidt about how to handle a barking dog problem, Temple said the proper procedure is to call the police department at the time the animal is barking. The owner of the animal will be warned once. If a second complaint is received steps will be taken to cite the owner into court. Temple said the complaint will be asked to testify in cases going to court.

Communications were received from the Pickaway County Commissioners and from the office of the Consumers Council of Ohio. The former requested a meeting with council, which was held following the regular council session, and the latter informed council that the consumers council will receive complaints about service inadequacies of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. The panel was formed last year to represent the consumer in rate increase cases heard by the PUCO.

Notification was received from the Ohio Department of Liquor Control that the Match Box located on the corner of Corwin and Washington St. has applied for a license permitting it to stay open until 2:30 p.m.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were: Mayor Frank Barnhill, Joe Bell, president of council; David Goldschmidt, John Jenkins, Harold Hoffman, Dixie Watters, Steve Jones, David Crawford, Tom Wells, Safety Director John McGinnis, Service Director Atwood Jones, Clyde Houseshell, Bob Kramer, Donald Greenlee.

Chief of Police Temple announced the new dispatcher has been employed. Terri Smallwood is the dispatcher. In answer to a question by councilman David Goldschmidt about how to handle a barking dog problem, Temple said the proper procedure is to call the police department at the time the animal is barking. The owner of the animal will be warned once. If a second complaint is received steps will be taken to cite the owner into court. Temple said the complaint will be asked to testify in cases going to court.

Communications were received from the Pickaway County Commissioners and from the office of the Consumers Council of Ohio. The former requested a meeting with council, which was held following the regular council session, and the latter informed council that the consumers council will receive complaints about service inadequacies of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. The panel was formed last year to represent the consumer in rate increase cases heard by the PUCO.

Notification was received from the Ohio Department of Liquor Control that the Match Box located on the corner of Corwin and Washington St. has applied for a license permitting it to stay open until 2:30 p.m.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were: Mayor Frank Barnhill, Joe Bell, president of council; David Goldschmidt, John Jenkins, Harold Hoffmann, Dixie Watters, Steve Jones, David Crawford, Tom Wells, Safety Director John McGinnis, Service Director Atwood Jones, Clyde Houseshell, Bob Kramer, Donald Greenlee.

Brezhnev Says Carter Statements 'Sound Positive'

MOSCOW (AP) — President Leonid I. Brezhnev says some of President Carter's recent statements "sound positive" but he challenged him to translate them into "the language of practical deeds."

Brezhnev in a speech Tuesday welcoming Yugoslav President Josip Broz Tito picked up Carter's feeler toward the Kremlin in a speech last month in Charleston, S.C.

"If a good initiative appears anywhere, we are always ready to respond to it," the Soviet leader said, adding that the Soviet Union constantly seeks peace in its foreign policy.

Attempting to thaw the chill in U.S.-Soviet relations brought on by his human rights crusade, Carter offered to clarify some of his human rights statements to show the campaign is not aimed solely at the Soviets.

"Compared with the previous moves by the U.S. administration, these statements sound positive," Brezhnev said. "If there is a wish to translate them into the language of practical deeds, we will willingly look for mutually acceptable solutions."

Carter in his Charleston speech said there had been "negative" Soviet comments about his proposals for limitation of nuclear arms and "about our more general relations."

"If these comments are based on a misconception of our motives, we will redouble our efforts to make them clear," Carter said. "But if they are merely designed as propaganda to put pressure on us, let no one doubt that we will persevere."

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, indicated on Aug. 3 that the Kremlin was pleased with Carter's remarks.

Tito, who is en route to North Korea and China, arrived in Moscow Tuesday for his first visit to the Soviet capital in four years. Brezhnev welcomed the World War II guerrilla chieftain who successfully defied Stalin as the patriarch of the nonaligned nations and said in a dinner speech Tuesday night: "It is important to step up cooperation between the socialist (Communist) countries and the movement of nonalignment."

County, City Solons Meet

Pickaway County Commissioners met with Circleville City Council Tuesday to present a proposed plan for a solid waste transfer station.

L. Robert Liston, chairman of the board of commissioners, told members of the council that solid waste disposal is a city problem as well as a county problem.

He introduced Dwight Davis who described the operation of the transfer station. Liston noted the proposed station will not eliminate the private haulers, but will help them in the event the Barthelmas Landfill site is closed.

A tractor-trailer will transport compacted refuse from the station to disposal sites out of the county.

Liston asked council to study the proposal and then to meet with commissioners again to discuss cost sharing in the event the station is constructed.

Administrator Named For Ohio WIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Diane Poulton has been appointed administrator of the newly created Ohio Women's Information Service.

The service was inspired by Sen. Margene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, to inform women throughout Ohio of their rights and legal remedies to discrimination. The service was established by Ohio statute.

Ms. Poulton, as she prefers to be called, is publications editor and director of college communications for the College of Administrative Science at Ohio State University. She will begin with the women's service Oct. 3.

Temperature extremes Tuesday were 87 and 70.

Market Report

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market added to its recent losses with a moderate decline today.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials gave up nearly 2 points in early trading.

Losers took a 3-2 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market was still suffering from concern over rising interest rates and fears of a marked slowdown in the growth rate of the economy.

The Commerce Department today projected significantly slower growth of the Gross National Product in the third quarter than in the second.

Today's prices included British Petroleum, off 1/8 at 15 1/2; Atlantic Richfield, off 1/2 at 54 1/4, and Texaco, unchanged at 28 3/4.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average dropped 4.85 to a new 19-month low of 869.28.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a 3-2 spread on the NYSE.

Big Board volume reached 19.34 million shares, against 15.75 million on Monday.

The NYSE's composite index lost .20 to 53.53.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .59 at 119.27.

Farm Fields Workable

By The Associated Press

Here is the agriculture weather advisory provided by the National Weather Service:

Slow clearing is expected for rain-drenched Ohio as a cold front moves farther to the south and cooler, dryer Canadian air flows into the state. Afternoon high temperatures will hold in the 70s for a day or so before slight warming into the 80s occurs over the weekend. Early morning low temperatures will dip into the chilly 40s.

FIELD OPERATIONS — Although field delays are likely, many areas will be dry enough to work within 24 to 48 hours. Evaporative loss rates will exceed 0.20 inch daily Thursday through Saturday.

HAYING — Good hay cutting weather will return to the state shortly. Field drying conditions will be good to excellent Thursday through Saturday. Hay cut late Wednesday or early Thursday will have excellent curing weather through harvest late Friday or Saturday. The next chance of showers is expected late in the weekend.

HARVEST — Fruit and vegetable harvesting weather will be excellent through Saturday. Fields may be soggy early in the period, but mature fruit and vegetables will ripen at a slow to moderate pace allowing a lengthy harvest. Good sizing is expected on fruit not yet at maturity.

TOBACCO — Topping and spraying conditions will be good to excellent Thursday through Saturday. Harvest conditions will also be excellent, but some greening is expected due to the abundant moisture. Fields will be muddy early in the period, and tobacco that was cut earlier and left standing through the showers will be mud splashed. Tobacco already in the barn will find afternoon humidities together with good natural air flow.

FORAGE AND PASTURE — Forage and pasture response to the additional rains will be rapid. Good greening is expected and vegetative growth will be accelerated.

Gas Odorant Dumped At Motel

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A nearly full motel along Interstate-77 was evacuated shortly before midnight Tuesday after someone dumped a quantity of the odorant used in natural gas onto the carpet, East Ohio Gas Co. said today.

Officials said the smell at the Ramada Inn on the city's south side remained strong today. "You just can't get that stuff out," a spokesman said. The odorant is added to gas to give it a smell that serves as a warning in event of leaks.

The incident was another in a continuing series that has plagued the Cleveland-based utility recently and which began with a similar dumping at a major Cleveland-area shopping center.

East Ohio officials apparently believe the tactic is related to an ongoing strike by 2,200 workers.

Claim Funeral Directors Hide Consumer Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's morticians, relying on public ignorance, sometimes take advantage of emotionally vulnerable customers by hiding important consumer information, says a report to the Federal Trade Commission.

The report's author, Jack E. Kahn, said "substantial misrepresentations" by the industry have left consumers "disadvantaged economically and in some cases emotionally."

Kahn, charging that morticians have dominated state efforts to eliminate deceptive practices, backed the commission's proposed regulation of the country's funeral homes.

State regulatory boards, he said, have been used "to restrain, harass or otherwise interfere with the sales of funeral merchandise and services and alternative methods of disposition, including cremation services and contracts with memorial societies."

Kahn's report, issued Tuesday, resulted from hearings he presided at last year in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Washington and Seattle.

He cited a "virtual absence of

Strike Nips Coal Output

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The wildcat strike that for two months has idled miners in the Appalachian coal fields is expected to sufficiently reduce annual production to the point where coal users will have to dip into reserves.

The strike will cause national coal production to fall some 33 million tons short of demand, the first time in three years that production has not met "consumption demand" of domestic and foreign customers, said Edwin Anthony of the National Coal Association.

Although much of the difference can be made up by dipping into stockpiles, some utilities may face local shortages and prices may rise, he said.

Utilities buying coal from West Virginia and Kentucky, the nation's largest producers and the area hardest hit by the walkout, can expect shortages if the strike continues.

The strike by an estimated 80,000 miners has wiped out industry production predictions of 697 million tons this year, "and the forecast now is 665 million tons, which is identical to last year's level," Anthony said.

Demand for the year has been estimated at 698 million tons, "so there will be a shortfall this year which will cause a drawdown in stockpiles," he said.

The strike is over cuts in United Mine Workers health benefits began June 22 in West Virginia, whose miners traditionally have been at the forefront of union militancy.

Urge Shots For Children

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State health and school officials urged Ohioans today to make sure their children have received required immunizations before the start of the new school year.

Health Director John Ackerman and Instruction Supt. Franklin Walter told a news conference that children lacking their inoculations will not be admitted to school under Ohio law.

They said surveys among school districts indicate as many as 200,000 children statewide are not fully immunized against polio and that 100,000 did not have adequate protection against measles.

Immunizations required before a child enters school for a first time include at least three doses of polio vaccine, four of diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus (DPT) and one of measles and rubella.

The health department is stepping up its immunization effort by devoting more manpower and vaccine to the program, Ackerman said, adding that the department is trying to reach preschool children through day care centers.

Both officials said one main thrust of the program is to educate parents. They are being urged not to wait until their children reach school age before immunizations are started.

Professional Language Doesn't Make You One

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you use the professional language of a professor or scientist, sometimes people think you are one. Even congressmen and newspapers sometimes make such assumptions.

Throughout the months of hearings, debates and final drafting of the omnibus farm and food-aid legislation, the Carter administration was represented daily by chief Agriculture Department economist Howard Hjord and Robert Greenstein, a special assistant on food stamps and nutrition programs to Secretary Bob Bergland.

"Let's hear what Dr. Hjord has to say," was a routine remark. His predecessor for eight years held a doctoral degree, as did former Secretary Earl L. Butz, so everyone just assumed ...

Told by reporters of his errors, Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., chairman of the House-Senate conference committee on the bill, closed one week's effort by conferring "an honorary doctorate of economic information on Mr. Hjord and an honorary doctorate of nutritional information on Mr. Greenstein, by act of Congress."

Dear Abby:

Wants To Turn In 'Defective' Twin

DEAR ABBY: My 24-year-old daughter has made a decision that is breaking my heart. I honestly wonder if she's in her right mind.

At 16 she married because she was pregnant, and now she has seven children. The last two are identical twin girls born only five days ago. She and her husband have decided to keep one of the twins, and give the other up for adoption. Abby, can you believe this? Their reason is so terrible, that I'm almost ashamed to tell you.

One of the twins was born with a club foot and a cleft palate. The other twin is perfect. Both are beautiful and otherwise healthy. They want to keep the perfect one and give the other one away. The thought of separating those twin babies makes me sick.

I've tried to tell my daughter that the club foot and cleft palate can be corrected with surgery, but she says that six children are all they can afford.

I offered to take the defective baby, but she says it would create problems to have her in the family. She's already contacted an adoption agency, and a childless couple is waiting to adopt the twin.

Can you help me? Please hurry.

Ohio Man Indicted

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted an Ohio fugitive on six counts of armed bank robbery.

Byron R. Ball, 40, was indicted Monday on charges he robbed three New Jersey banks of $24,860 this summer.

U.S. Atty. Jonathan L. Goldstein said Ball, who escaped last April for the Lucasville (Ohio) Correctional Institute, is still at large. He was serving a sentence for armed robbery at the time of his escape, authorities said.

He is charged with robbing the Spencer Savings and Loan Association of Clifton on June 3, United Jersey Bank in Parsippany on June 28 and the Meadowlands National Bank in North Bergen on Aug. 2.

If convicted, Ball faces a maximum penalty of 75 years in prison and a $30,000 fine, Goldstein said.

An FBI spokesman said a handgun was used during each robbery to threaten customers and employees. Two shots were fired during the North Bergen robbery, but there were no injuries, the spokesman said.

CJHS Schedules Band Rehearsal

Director Clifford Kerns has announced that a full band rehearsal has been set for all eighth and ninth grade band members Thursday evening from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Members are to report to the CJHS band room. Any new students in the area are invited to attend. This rehearsal is in preparation for the band preview on Sept. 2 at Tiger Stadium.

could be disturbed, or suffering from a temporary depression from which she would recover. Should she go through with the adoption it will not be final for a year. Perhaps she'll regain her senses by that time, but if so, what a cruel ordeal for the adoptive parents!

DEAR ABBY: My sister has developed an allergy to doing dishes. The minute she starts doing the dishes, she sneezes. It's not just one sneeze, but a long string of them.

Mama says she can't help it, so I have to do the dishes alone. What should I do? I think my sister is just trying to get out of doing the dishes.

DISHWASHER

DEAR DISHWASHER: Your sister could be allergic to the soap powder or liquid detergent you use for dishwashing. A doctor could determine this. If that's the cause, it's time for a change. (What a spot for a commercial!)

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in response to HATES HUNTING. If he doesn't want to go hunting, he doesn't have to, but is he willing to help foot the bill to save wildlife? Hunters contribute about $230 million annually to preserve wildlife. (Also, sport hunting has never endangered a species.)

Sadly, there are slob hunters who drink while hunting, and "shoot everything that moves." Fortunately, they are a small minority, which is growing smaller because in many states there are mandatory safety courses for hunters under age 18 to 24.

As for hunters killing others (or themselves) by mistake, in 1976 there were nearly 100,000 deer hunters in New Mexico, but only six hunting accidents involving guns! (No fatalities.)

Hunters appreciate wildlife more than any other group. Please be fair, Abby, and give us hunters equal time.

L.L. IN N.M.

DEAR L.L.: In the interest of fairness, I'll give hunters equal time. But I still feel that until hunted animals can shoot back, they don't have an equal chance.

On Thursday, September 8, at 7 p.m. all Farm Bureau members are invited to attend the Annual Pickaway County Farm Bureau Meeting to be held at the Pickaway County 4-H and Grange Building.

The Annual Meeting meal will be pork chops served by the local Porketts. The cost will be $4 per person with the board providing one free meal per membership.

The guest speaker for the annual event will be R. R. (Pat) Casey, assistant to the Executive Vice President for Research and Development.

For reservations, contact Sylvia Leist, Pickaway County Farm Bureau Office, by phone 474-6284. Reservations must be made by September 1.

Door prizes will be provided by Circleville Landmark.

Counsel Noting Increase In Popularity

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new Office of the Consumers' Counsel notes a steady increase in mail and telephone calls from consumers throughout the state as the fledgling agency becomes better known.

Nedra Hartzell, a spokesman for the consumer services division, estimates the office gets about 20 letters a week and 30 or more telephone calls over the same period.

More are expected later, and William A. Spratley, named in late February to head the operation, plans to install a toll free "hot line" for consumers later.

Not surprisingly, most of the mail and phone calls have come from senior citizens on fixed incomes. These picked up considerably when Spratley's operation got unexpected publicity. It came after Ohio Bell Telephone Co. inadvertently left Spratley's personal phone number out of the Columbus area directory, and the news media made note of the irony in the situation.

OFBF Plans To Honor Farm Couple

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation (OFBF) announces a program to recognize the organization's outstanding young farm couple.

Blake Gerber, OFBF director of program development, says the program will recognize a farm couple rather than an outstanding farmer, keeping in mind that a successful farming operation depends on the dedication of both the farmer and the farm wife.

To qualify for the program a couple must be Farm Bureau members, actively engaged in farming, and no more than 30 years of age as of Dec. 31, 1977. To enter the competition, couples must complete an application form.

Ohio Farm Bureau Advisory Councils and individual Farm Bureau members are urged to nominate young couples for the award. Councils nominating winning couples will receive recognition.

From each of Ohio's four regions, a winning couple will be selected by a team of judges. From these four regional winners, a state winner will be named.

The winning couple will receive a expense paid trip to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting in Houston, Texas, Jan. 8-12 in the American Farm Bureau Federation Young Farmer and Rancher Award program for national honors. In addition, the winning couple will be recognized at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting Nov. 27-30 in Columbus.

State winners of the contest last year were Wendell and Marcia Waters of West Lafayette. Regional winners were Robert and Susan Geiseman of New Washington, Arthur and Eltha Logan of Farmdale, and Tom and Lynn Pittstick of Fairborn.

Requests for applications should be sent to Blake Gerber, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, 245 N. High St., Columbus, Ohio 43216. Deadline for applications is Oct. 1.

Spratley, 30, is the first utility customer advocate Ohio ever has had, and one of only a few in the country. His main job is to represent the public in rate hike hearings before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, but individual complaints about service and rates are not being discouraged.

LEGAL NOTICE
CETA TITLE I
BALANCE OF STATE
FISCAL YEAR 1978

The Ohio Department of Administrative Services, Office of Manpower Development and Training Act of 1973. Funding covers the period from October 1, 1977 through September 30, 1978. The new Title I grant amount totals $16,903,000. As a component of CETA, the general purpose of the grant is to provide job training and employment opportunities for economically disadvantaged, unemployed, and underemployed persons and to assure that these services lead to maximum employment opportunities. The plan will serve Ohio's Balance of State Prime Sponsorship, which currently consists of 58 counties. By September 30, 1978, 7,918 people will have been served, including 1,572 through Classroom Training; 463 through On-The-Job Training; and 5,883 through Work Experience. The prime sponsor for the Balance of State requires that only economically disadvantaged persons will be served under Title I for fiscal year 1978. The BOS Prime Sponsor Council established the following priorities of services: 1) Heads of Households; 2) Aged 14 to 22; 3) Vietnam-Era Veterans; 4) Older Workers (55 years and over); 5) the Handicapped; 6) Ex-Offenders; 7) Limited English-Speaking; and 8) Minorities. Activities funded include: Classroom Training (educational and skill training, institutional and less-than-class); On-The-Job Training; and Work Experience. Services to participants shall include but not be limited to: Outreach-Recruitment; intake; Assessment; Orientation; Counseling; Coaching; Job Development and Placement; and Emergency Aid. The following services were found to be in need in the BOS area: transportation; health, child care; and legal assistance. The diversity of need in the BOS area will be met through the mix of the above mentioned activities and services. On-The-Job Training will be administered through a sub-contract with the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services. All programs in the BOS will operate under the direction of, and monitored by the Office of Manpower Development. Copies of the plan are available for inspection from: Judy Sullivan, Route No. 4, P.O. Box 204, Peebles, Ohio 45660; Marilyn Foulk, 564 E. Court Street, Urbana, Ohio 43078; Ann Stratton, 2434 Wales Avenue, Lima, Ohio 45806; Diane Kramer, 622 South Park Ave., Fremont, Ohio 43420; Berwyn Guthrie, 1468 Rest Haven Drive, Mansfield, Ohio 44903; Barbara Thall, 30 East Broad St., 27th Floor, Columbus, Ohio 43215; Mary Ann Crawford, 2636 1/2 S. 5th St., Ironton, Ohio 45638; Mark Holcomb, 310 S. State St., Crooksville, Ohio 43731; and Paye Wilder, 110 Cleveland Ave., N.W., P.O. Box 8748, Canton, Ohio 44711. that came recently from a retirement-aged couple in Dayton which said in part: "We are conservative people and there is no place left for us to cut back. We worked hard, raised our family, and now should be able to relax and enjoy some of the good things of life. But we can hardly afford to get by."

From Youngstown, a lady wrote Spratley "your name and address were referred to me for help instead of mere frustration and anger. This electric bill is more than one quarter of the monthly rent for our apartment."

The office gets complaints about bills, disconnections and other specific matters which Hartzell says the division tries to resolve. "Sometimes we can do it, and it might just take a phone call to the company," she said.

In one case, a Toledo couple said gas service was cut off because of a mix up in meter numbers by the gas company. The company corrected the situation, and paid a day's wages to the employed housewife who had to stay home to get the service restored.

Not all the calls and mail are particularly helpful. A Dayton man deplored Spratley's favorable reaction when Dayton Power & Light Co. got only a portion of a requested rate hike. He felt DP&L should have received no increase, and said "it's unfortunate that a character like you has been placed in power."

The office also gets calls that are misdirected and usually refers them to the consumer fraud section of the attorney general's office.

Spratley is limited to utility matters, but calls and letters involve many things. One caller complained of a defaulted magazine subscription, another about a neighbor with whom he had fought.

On the question of utility company problems, Hartzell said the office can't guarantee solutions, but adds "we are here for the consumer. If we can resolve a problem, we will do it. We will try."

Wants To Turn In 'Defective' Twin

DEAR ABBY: My 24-year-old daughter has made a decision that is breaking my heart. I honestly wonder if she's in her right mind.

At 16 she married because she was pregnant, and now she has seven children. The last two are identical twin girls born only five days ago. She and her husband have decided to keep one of the twins, and give the other up for adoption. Abby, can you believe this? Their reason is so terrible, that I'm almost ashamed to tell you.

One of the twins was born with a club foot and a cleft palate. The other twin is perfect. Both are beautiful and otherwise healthy. They want to keep the perfect one and give the other one away. The thought of separating those twin babies makes me sick.

I've tried to tell my daughter that the club foot and cleft palate can be corrected with surgery, but she says that six children are all they can afford.

I offered to take the defective baby, but she says it would create problems to have her in the family. She's already contacted an adoption agency, and a childless couple is waiting to adopt the twin.

Can you help me? Please hurry.

Ohio Man Indicted

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted an Ohio fugitive on six counts of armed bank robbery.

Byron R. Ball, 40, was indicted Monday on charges he robbed three New Jersey banks of $24,860 this summer.

U.S. Atty. Jonathan L. Goldstein said Ball, who escaped last April for the Lucasville (Ohio) Correctional Institute, is still at large. He was serving a sentence for armed robbery at the time of his escape, authorities said.

He is charged with robbing the Spencer Savings and Loan Association of Clifton on June 3, United Jersey Bank in Parsippany on June 28 and the Meadowlands National Bank in North Bergen on Aug. 2.

If convicted, Ball faces a maximum penalty of 75 years in prison and a $30,000 fine, Goldstein said.

An FBI spokesman said a handgun was used during each robbery to threaten customers and employees. Two shots were fired during the North Bergen robbery, but there were no injuries, the spokesman said.

Reviving Breakfast

Another movement has been started in some sections to revive that once great institution, the American breakfast — a meal that is no longer served in a great many homes. Thousands go to work fueled by little more than a cup of coffee. This has become the substitute for a meal which in former years was both a social and culinary event for the family. Breakfast then was something to be looked forward to. The menu was almost unlimited. Cereal hot off the stove, with cream. Bacon, eggs in every style, ham, hot cakes or waffles with plenty of syrup. Fruit, of course, and plenty of coffee or cocoa. Many of the younger generation say they do not care for breakfast. That could be because they never knew the delights of the meal.

Oiling Our Downfall

By JIM BISHOP

Dear Mr. President: Recently you had a private meeting with a handful of editors and news directors. You said that the public "is not paying attention" to your pleas for voluntary conservation in oil, water, and power. "I am concerned," you said, "that the public has not responded well, and I think voluntary compliance is probably not adequate at all." You're right, sir. But why say it in private? Why not tell us at a news conference that we're spoiled brats?

We are. Our poor eat better than the middle class of India. All our lives we have been told about the better life. What is it? More houses, cars, television sets, more money in the bank than the people of any other nation.

No one except you and a few economists saw the 1980s as the end of the line. Why not take a drive down I-95? Ask your chauffeur to maintain 55 miles per hour. Try it. Every car will pass you by. So will trucks and buses. You're disappointed in you. We're not disappointed in you. According to the polls, millions more Americans would vote for you today than followed your star last November. What you need, if you'll excuse the expression, is teeth. We seldom do with less of anything unless there is a penalty for non-compliance.

Either you jack up prices on oil products or you ration them. In that meeting, you said, "I would say at this point that the public has not responded well, that the absence of visibility to the impending oil shortage removes the incentive for the public to be concerned." See? You're beginning to talk like a president.

You mean if we can't see it we don't believe it. Right again. We citizens have wasted even more oil than usual since you took office. The Arabs are collecting $40 billion more each year than they can spend.

We have a sick dollar, Mr. President. Not too long ago it was the strongest currency in the world. This summer, Americans who flew to Europe found that everything from postcards to souvenirs cost more and more. That's because the buck is no longer worth a buck.

Obviously we should sell more than we buy. Know something? We would still be beating the international monetary system if we didn't have to pay those extra billions for oil. Unless you can find a means of cutting down on the use of oil, natural gas and electrical power - and make it stick - this country is going down the drain, busted, broke, dishonored by its people.

The New York Times states: "The Carter administration professes uncertainty." I don't believe it. Your problem - and the problem of Congress - is that you are both caught in a position where you must sponsor "unpopular" legislation.

There are some things more important than being president. Or a senator. One of them is being right. We won World War II because we turned out to be prepared for discipline. If the government said we couldn't have gasoline, or butter, or tires, we accepted it.

We had a winning team. Don't tell me that our sons and daughters are less patriotic. They holler louder. And protest more. But if you level with them and explain the situation, I'm sure we can cut back on gasoline, air-conditioners, perfect temperatures in winter, and the use of electricity.

Electricity is made with oil. It heats up and spins the dynamos. A number of people do not know that useless lights inside and outside the house burn more oil. Why not explain it in simple declarative sentences? Select one family, one abode, and show us where the waste is.

The U.S. oil and public utilities corporations, which have a

3 Carter Goals Not Possible By 1981

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may be impossible for President Carter to achieve all of his three major goals of stemming inflation, reducing unemployment and balancing the nation's budget by 1981, a congressional study says.

The study, prepared for the Joint Economic Committee, was released Monday by Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo. It used computer models of the economy and other techniques to examine chances for Carter's three major aims for 1981.

In a nationally televised interview on Sunday, the President conceded that his administration is not making satisfactory progress toward attainment of its economic goals.

Bolling, the committee's chairman, said the congressional staff study does not necessarily reflect the views of the Senate-House panel itself.

In another development, the government reported Monday that the nation's industrial output rose at a slower pace last month, confirming forecasts of a slight slowdown in economic growth.

The July increase, at one-half of 1 per cent, was down from the rise of seven-tenths of a per cent in June and nine-tenths of a per cent in May. If stretched out over an entire year, however, the July increase would amount to 6 per cent, a relatively healthy growth rate.

The pessimistic Joint Economic Committee report was based on an analysis of the administration's three major goals: reducing the unemployment rate, which has been ranging around 7 per cent, to 4.75 per cent; slowing inflation, now at about 6 per cent, to 4.3 per cent, and matching revenues and spending so as to balance the budget.

The researchers' simulations, they reported, "illustrate the awkward position the administration has gotten itself into by promising a combination of economic targets that are plainly inconsistent."

To reduce inflation to the target rate, the report said, restrictive fiscal and monetary policies would be needed — and these would raise the unemployment rate well above 7 per cent.

"Only pure good luck ... including bumper world food harvests and massive and unexpected increases in energy supplies, would reduce both the inflation and the unemployment rates," the report said.

Honestly, I think that we are ready to follow orders, if you and the Congress will level with us. Stop smiling. Be unpopular. As a people, we appreciate courage. . . .

Airlines Agree On New Fares

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Six airlines have agreed on new off-season fares between New York and London of $146 one way and $256 round trip to compete with Freddie Laker's Skytrain shuttle.

The cost for tickets bought in London would be 64 pounds (currently $111) and 149 pounds ($259) because varying tariffs and fluctuating exchange rates make tickets for the eastbound flight more expensive.

The rates are to be effective between Sept. 15 and March 31, with a total of 2,900 seats available each week in each direction aboard planes of Trans World Airlines and Pan American, which originated the plan; British Airways, Air India, Iran Air and El Al. They are the members of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) that fly between New York and London.

Laker, an independent British operator who is not a member of IATA, plans to start one flight a day each way between Britain and the United States in September. He is to charge $236 for the round trip, $135 for the New York-to-London flight and about $111 for the London-to-New York leg.

Charters and package deals now provide the cheapest New York-to-London fares of about $250 to $300 roundtrip.

IATA also announced agreement on lower advance purchase excursion, or APEX, fares between several U.S. and European cities from Oct. 1 to March 31, 1978.

Depending on the flight, APEX tickets must be purchased 14 to 45 days before departure. The new APEX fare between New York and London would be $299, a reduction of $51.

The new IATA rates, announced Monday after a three-day meeting in Geneva, are subject to approval by the British and U.S. governments and by four other major airlines that did not attend the conference.

IATA, an association of 110 airlines from 85 countries, declined to identify the other four lines.

The new cut-rate tickets on the IATA lines would be available in two ways: 1. A passenger would pay the full ticket price at least three weeks before the week he planned to leave. The airline would inform him of his assigned flight no earlier than 10 days before the week of departure.

2. A passenger would sign up in advance on a standby status which would not guarantee him a seat. Seat assignments would be made after 4 a.m. of the day of departure and at least three hours before the flight left New York or two hours before it left London.

The hurricane season runs from the start of June through the end of November, according to the National Weather Service.

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 17, the 229th day of 1977. There are 136 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1943, in World War II, Allied forces gained complete control of the Italian island of Sicily.

On this date: In 1648, Oliver Cromwell defeated Royalists under the Duke of Hamilton at the Battle of Preston in England.

In 1786, a hero of the Battle of the Alamo, Davey Crockett, was born in Tennessee.

In 1863, Federal batteries and ships bombarded Fort Sumter in Charleston harbor during the Civil War.

In 1879, the French Panama Canal Company was formed under Ferdinand de Lesseps.

In 1945, the Dutch refused to recognize the territory of Indonesia as an independent nation.

In 1969, Hurricane Camille slammed into the U.S. Gulf Coast. About 300 people were killed as the storm battered Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, West Virginia and Virginia.

Ten years ago: It was disclosed that the toll of Americans killed in the Vietnamese War had passed 15,000.

Five years ago: In South Vietnam, insurgent rockets rained down on Da Nang airbase in the heaviest shelling of the year at the installation.

One year ago: An earthquake that caused a tidal wave on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao left an estimated 8,000 people dead or missing.

Today's birthdays: Entertainer Mae West is 84 years old. Financier John Hay Whitney is 73.

Thought for today: The secret of success is this: there is no secret of success — Elbert Hubbard, American writer, 1856-1915.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I slipped on the ice six months ago and broke my leg. It was called a "simple" fracture. I am 66 and I hope you will tell your readers that a "simple" fracture is not so "simple." I haven't recovered from it yet.

Mr. D.S., Minn.

Dear Mr. S.: I'm sure that my readers will benefit from your letter. I'm certain, too, that they join me in hoping that your not-so-simple problem will soon be over.

It's a misconception that a simple fracture of the bone is not serious. A simple fracture means that the fractured bone did not penetrate through the skin.

This is different from the "compound" fracture, in which fragments of bone have torn through the muscles and the skin and exposed the injured tissue to infection.

The healing of any kind of fracture is a very complex process. In the young, where the blood circulation is active, both compound and simple fractures heal more readily.

In the elderly, where the blood circulation is poorer, fragments of bone may not heal as rapidly. Sometimes there is a delay in the union of the broken ends of the bone. In some instances, there is no union at all, and this requires one of a variety of operations to cure it.

Very ingenious techniques of implanting bone chips, metal pins and using electronic stimulants now make non-union fractures heal.

I have often suggested to my elderly readers that they use a cane or an umbrella for additional support, even in dry weather, if they are prone to slipping or have any sense of instability while walking. It is an excellent investment in health.

Anyone who has ever had the pain of sciatica will want to know, as I do, what causes it.

Mr. J.R., N.H.

Dear Mr. R.:

The sciatic nerve is one of the longest nerves in the body. It starts in the lower spine, extends through the buttock, down the back of the thigh, the calf and into the foot.

One of the most difficult problems facing a doctor is to distinguish between sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, slipped disc and the lower back pain syndrome. The symptoms resemble each other so closely that diagnosis is possible only after intensive study.

The sciatic nerve can be injured by walking, bicycling, riding a horse, poor posture, or by carrying a heavy load. Sciatica can also result from chronic alcoholism or lead poisoning. Osteoarthritis of the spine, focal infections and fibroids of the uterus are other potential causes for sciatica. Each must be tracked down, for neglected sciatica can become complicated and incapacitating.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans now spend more than one of every three food dollars away from home, a figure that is expected to rise to two of every five in the 1980s, says the National Restaurant Association.

Food service people accept such predictions as almost automatic, easily documented and richly deserved. There is a confidence about them that few industries have. Says Victor Rosellini of Seattle, the NRA president, the industry is in "spectacular health."

Even when cold weather and rising gasoline prices were pressing on restaurant sales last winter, few serious worries were expressed. Proprietors warmed themselves with the feeling they were riding a wave of social change.

Among the factors involved, they point to the greater presence of women in the labor force, more singles households, the standardization of menus by big-volume restaurant chains, more professional institutional care, rising incomes.

"I feel that underlying forces, demographic especially, are feeding the industry," says Louis Boochever, NRA's chief economist, whose personal elation sometimes is expressed in puns, albeit significant ones. "This is no flash in the pan," he says.

Boochever, the industry is expected to achieve a sales level of $86.9 billion, a 10.6 per cent increase over last year. Two-thirds of the total will come from eating-drinking places.

Meals served in public schools, colleges, hospitals, factories, clubs, airlines, ships, military bases, prisons and in other retail stores make up the other third of the industry, which is now the nation's largest retail employer.

It is the restaurants, however, where innovation and entrepreneurial spirit are being expressed most observably, and it is in this area that a clash of mammoth social dimensions is taking place.

In the first five months of the year, says the NRA pointedly, "eating and drinking place sales totaled $22.342 billion, up more than 9 per cent from last year, while food stores showed a modest 6 per cent gain."

The battle of the restaurant versus the food store hasn't yet taken on the dimensions that some farsighted planners expect it to, because no matter what the restaurants claim, most people are convinced it costs less to eat at home.

But, as the restaurant people can demonstrate, those saved dollars come at the expense of a lot of work, on which more and more people are inclined to put a dollar sign.

There is, to illustrate, the time, money and effort involved in shopping, preparing, cooking, cleaning up. And there is waste. The purchase of doughnuts sometimes means a package of eight, some of which become stale garbage in a household of one.

Rising family income and the growing number of working women is adding impetus to this type of cost accounting. Tired from working, women are said to be less inclined to defrost the dinner when a telephone call or a short drive relieves them of the drudgery.

Note the word "drudgery," a word that has come into common usage in describing the tasks commonly performed in the home by women. Could it be in part a product of the creative imaginations of restaurateurs? Indeed, it could.

While some socialologists are disturbed by what they see as an attack on some solid family virtues, the eating-out outlets are in fact now planning on bringing the family together — over a table at their establishments.

The family style restaurant, that is, is one of the hottest new ideas in the business, aimed at keeping apace the family status of former teenagers, who originally provided many of the customers for fastfood outlets.

One company, for example, plans to develop 100 or more Country Kitchen family style restaurants in California during the next five years. The same style of restaurant is prominent in the plans of the Friendly Ice Cream chain.

These, and ethnic restaurants, are the latest developments in a remarkably adaptive industry seeking to stay atop the crest. The wave, they say, is a permanent one and they intend to ride it like a surfer.

An estimated 40,000 pygmies still inhabit the former Congo, including northeastern Zaire, says National Geographic. Most live in wandering bands of 40 to 50 and resist efforts to settle them in one location.

Reviving Breakfast

Another movement has been started in some sections to revive that once great institution, the American breakfast — a meal that is no longer served in a great many homes. Thousands go to work fueled by little more than a cup of coffee. This has become the substitute for a meal which in former years was both a social and culinary event for the family. Breakfast then was something to be looked forward to. The menu was almost unlimited. Cereal hot off the stove, with cream. Bacon, eggs in every style, ham, hot cakes or waffles with plenty of syrup. Fruit, of course, and plenty of coffee or cocoa. Many of the younger generation say they do not care for breakfast. That could be because they never knew the delights of the meal.

Oiling Our Downfall

By JIM BISHOP

Dear Mr. President: Recently you had a private meeting with a handful of editors and news directors. You said that the public "is not paying attention" to your pleas for voluntary conservation in oil, water, and power. "I am concerned," you said, "that the public has not responded well, and I think voluntary compliance is probably not adequate at all." You're right, sir. But why say it in private? Why not tell us at a news conference that we're spoiled brats?

We are. Our poor eat better than the middle class of India. All our lives have been told about the better life. What is it? More houses, cars, television sets, more money in the bank than the people of any other nation.

No one except you and a few economists saw the 1980s as the end of the line. Why not take a drive down I-95? Ask your chauffeur to maintain 55 miles per hour. Try it. Every car will pass you by. So will trucks and buses.

You're disappointed in us. We're not disappointed in you. According to the polls, millions more Americans would vote for you today than followed your star last November. What you need, if you'll excuse the expression, is teeth. We seldom do with less of anything unless there is a penalty for non-compliance.

Either you jack up prices on oil products or you ration them. In that meeting, you said, "I would say at this point that the public has not responded well, that the absence of visibility to the impending oil shortage removes the incentive for the public to be concerned." See? You're beginning to talk like a president.

You mean if we can't see it we don't believe it. Right again. We citizens have wasted even more oil than usual since you took office. The Arabs are collecting $40 billion more each year than they can spend.

We have a sick dollar, Mr. President. Not too long ago it was the strongest currency in the world. This summer, Americans who flew to Europe found that everything from postcards to souvenirs cost more and more. That's because the buck is no longer worth a buck.

Obviously we should sell more than we buy. Know something? We would still be beating the international monetary system if we didn't have to pay those extra billions for oil. Unless you can find a means of cutting down on the use of oil, natural gas and electrical power - and make it stick - this country is going down the drain, busted, broke, dishonored by its people.

The New York Times states: "The Carter administration professes unconcern." I don't believe it. Your problem - and the problem of Congress - is that you are both caught in a position where you must sponsor "unpopular" legislation.

There are some things more important than being president. Or a senator. One of them is being right. We won World War II because we turned out to be prepared for discipline. If the government said we couldn't have gasoline, or butter, or tires, we accepted it. We had a winning team. Don't tell me that our sons and daughters are less patriotic. They holler louder. And protest more. But if you level with them and explain the situation, I'm sure we can cut back on gasoline, air-conditioners, perfect temperatures in winter, and the use of electricity. Electricity is made with oil. It heats up and spins the dynamos. A number of people do not know that useless lights inside and outside the house burn more oil. Why not explain it in simple declarative sentences? Select one family, one abode, and show us where the waste is.

The U.S. oil and public utilities corporations, which have a remarkable record of never helping anyone except themselves, have moved off the land mass onto the sea to find more oil. At the moment, the U.S. has 31 and a third billions of barrels of oil to be pumped. It sounds terrific. It isn't. We import more than we pump. Russia and China, which would like to see us go down the drain, have 101 billion barrels. The Arabs have 326 billions. Unless you do something quick, they will end up with all the paper money in the world and none of the oil.

Honestly, I think that we are ready to follow orders, if you and the Congress will level with us. Stop smiling. Be unpopular. As a people, we appreciate courage. . . .

3 Carter Goals Not Possible By 1981

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may be impossible for President Carter to achieve all of his three major goals of stemming inflation, reducing unemployment and balancing the nation's budget by 1981, a congressional study says.

The study, prepared for the Joint Economic Committee, was released Monday by Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo. It used computer models of the economy and other techniques to examine chances for Carter's three major aims for 1981.

In a nationally televised interview on Sunday, the President conceded that his administration is not making satisfactory progress toward attainment of its economic goals.

Bolling, the committee's chairman, said the congressional staff study does not necessarily reflect the views of the Senate-House panel itself.

In another development, the government reported Monday that the nation's industrial output rose at a slower pace last month, confirming forecasts of a slight slowdown in economic growth.

The July increase, at one-half of 1 per cent, was down from the rise of seven-tenths of a per cent in June and nine-tenths of a per cent in May. If stretched out over an entire year, however, the July increase would amount to 6 per cent, a relatively healthy growth rate.

The pessimistic Joint Economic Committee report was based on an analysis of the administration's three major goals: reducing the unemployment rate, which has been ranging around 7 per cent, to 4.75 per cent; slowing inflation, now at about 6 per cent, to 4.3 per cent, and matching revenues and spending so as to balance the budget.

The researchers' simulations, they reported, "illustrate the awkward position the administration has gotten itself into by promising a combination of economic targets that are plainly inconsistent."

To reduce inflation to the target rate, the report said, restrictive fiscal and monetary policies would be needed — and these would raise the unemployment rate well above 7 per cent. "Only pure good luck ... including bumper world food harvests and massive and unexpected increases in energy supplies, would reduce both the inflation and the unemployment rates," the report said.

Airlines Agree On New Fares

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Six airlines have agreed on new off-season fares between New York and London of $146 one way and $256 round trip to compete with Freddie Laker's Skytrain shuttle.

The cost for tickets bought in London would be 64 pounds (currently $111) and 149 pounds ($259) because varying tariffs and fluctuating exchange rates make tickets for the eastbound flight more expensive.

The rates are to be effective between Sept. 15 and March 31, with a total of 2,900 seats available each week in each direction aboard planes of Trans World Airlines and Pan American, which originated the plan; British Airways, Air India, Iran Air and El Al. They are the members of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) that fly between New York and London.

Laker, an independent British operator who is not a member of IATA, plans to start one flight a day each way between Britain and the United States in September. He is to charge $236 for the round trip, $135 for the New York-to-London flight and about $111 for the London-to-New York leg.

Charters and package deals now provide the cheapest New York-to-London fares of about $250 to $300 roundtrip.

IATA also announced agreement on lower advance purchase excursion, or APEX, fares between several U.S. and European cities from Oct. 1 to March 31, 1978.

Depending on the flight, APEX tickets must be purchased 14 to 45 days before departure. The new APEX fare between New York and London would be $299, a reduction of $51.

The new IATA rates, announced Monday after a three-day meeting in Geneva, are subject to approval by the British and U.S. governments and by four other major airlines that did not attend the conference.

IATA, an association of 110 airlines from 85 countries, declined to identify the other four lines.

The new cut-rate tickets on the IATA lines would be available in two ways: 1. A passenger would pay the full ticket price at least three weeks before the week he planned to leave. The airline would inform him of his assigned flight no earlier than 10 days before the week of departure.

2. A passenger would sign up in advance on a standby status which would not guarantee him a seat. Seat assignments would be made after 4 a.m. of the day of departure and at least three hours before the flight left New York or two hours before it left London.

The hurricane season runs from the start of June through the end of November, according to the National Weather Service.

Cleveland Is Now City

Cleveland is now city! Modern and moving with the times, the "Forest City," ringed with an "Emerald Necklace" pulses with the energy and dynamism of her 1.6 million inhabitants.

Only in a great metropolis, is there such extravagant diversity of peoples, cultures, interests and entertainment.

Several of the nation's foremost cultural organizations are in the city. The Cleveland Play House, first professional resident theater company in the country was established 1916, and continues today with productions in its three theaters, which range from Shakespeare's classics to new plays. The Karamu House and Theater is a center for the arts with particular emphasis on the Black culture. The Lakewood Civic Auditorium is the home of the Great Lakes Shakespeare Festival which presents a complete repertory of classic plays. And, of course, the fabulous Cleveland Orchestra has a regular winter series and presents concerts on weekend evenings at University Circle, from May through September, and then moves to its summer home, the Blossom Music Center for a full schedule of pop concerts from June through August.

Cleveland boasts various exceptional attractions to both tourists and its residents.

The Metroparks Zoological Park has one of the country's finest collections of mammals, hoofed animals and birds, displayed in their natural habitat.

Cleveland's Health Museum, which was the first museum in the Western Hemisphere to pioneer in health information and education, offers exhibits on all aspects of human growth and physiology. The museum has various notable permanent exhibits and regularly provides special exhibitions so that there is something new to see on every visit.

Working in cooperation with the Western Reserve University and Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland's Museum of Natural History is remarkable in its scope. Dedicated to the improvement of natural science education, the museum has expanded far beyond the walls of its parent facility, into the 12-acre grounds, into sanctuary lands, and into branch museums, which are extensions, not duplicates of the parent. Exhibits cover the broad categories of the geologic history of the earth, the beginnings of life, animals of the past, principles of biology, living animals and the story of primates and man.

Housed in Cleveland's Museum of Art are some of the most important art treasures in the world from all periods and all areas of civilization. In addition to its permanent collection, the museum conducts special exhibitions throughout the year, and offers a lecture series, film series, and art education classes for young and old.

However you visit Cleveland, on a guided tour or on your own, for a day or a week, or for part of your life, this surging, many-faceted city is one of Ohio's grand phenomena.

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday August 17, 1977

July Wedding Vows Repeated

The Rev. Keith Dow of the Richland Methodist Church at Melvin performed the 2:30 p.m., July 30, wedding ceremony for Marguerite Gilmore and Paul Olney.

The altar was decorated with vases of white and yellow gladiolus and multi-colored pom poms.

The wedding music was provided by the bride's granddaughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Steven Fligor.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her son Roland Gilmore. Her formal length gown was designed along princess lines with white and green chiffon over taffeta. Her flowers were yellow roses.

Mrs. Sherrill Smith, was her mother's matron of honor.

Mr. Donald Olney, performed the duties of best man for his father.

A reception was held in the church social rooms immediately following the service.

Hostesses were Mrs. Glen Justice, Mrs. Stefan Bielanow, Mrs. Roland Gilmore, Mrs. Carl Gilmore, assisted by Miss Deborah Justice. Miss Sheri Smith presided at the guest register.

The couple will reside at 179 Parklawn Drive, Elsea Mobile Village, Circleville.

Open House To Honor Anniversary

MR. & MRS. NOLAN DUNKLE

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Dunkle, 143 Walnut St., will be celebrating their 41st anniversary with an open house from 2-5 p.m., August 21, at their residence.

Mr. Dunkle and the former Bessie Hockenberry were united in marriage August 28, 1936 in Chillicothe, by the Rev. Asa James Kestle.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Josephine Riegel, Mrs. Mary Justice, Mrs. Barbara Hart.

The couple requests the omission of gifts.

Legion Auxiliary Schedules Picnic

Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary will hold a carry-in picnic, Monday 6:30 p.m. at Mary Stephens home, 22662 Ringgold Southern Road.

Members planning to attend should bring table service. Ice tea will be furnished.

For further details, call 474-5795 or 474-2533.

AAUW Selects Topics For Coming Year

Jane Sutton, program development chairman of the local AAUW branch, is announcing the program and speakers for the upcoming meetings.

As part of its commitment to the community, AAUW will be studying various aspects of education, including funding, preparation of students for college or a vocation, and education alternative for the mature woman.

The following programs have been planned: September, a discussion of goals by members; October, presentations by the presidents of the Circleville and Teays Valley Boards of Education; November, a discussion by four teachers on the limitations and expectations of teachers; and January, a talk by high school teachers on the role of the secondary school in preparing its students for life.

In February, Superintendent Fritz Jacobs will be the speaker; and in March, guidance and counseling will be discussed by three people in that field. Alternate methods of funding of education will be the topic in April, and in May the former state board coordinator of AAUW will be discussing continuing education.

All women with a degree from an approved four-year college or university are invited to join AAUW. Membership information may be obtained by calling the membership chairman, Reba Frosini, at 474-1198.

Couple United In July Rites

Maxine Hope Smith and Gary Allen Rittinger were united in marriage July 29 at the home in which they will reside at Route 1, Chillicothe, by the Rev. Edgar Jordan of the Yellow Bud Church of Jesus Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren (Jack) Smith, Williamsport, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Goldie Rittinger, Chillicothe.

The ceremony was attended by the bridegroom's four children, Melynn, Gary, Melissa and Meloni Rittinger.

Miss Smith Plans To Wed

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Linda Smith to Airman Charles Hazen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swanson, Penscola, Florida, is being announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Homer Logan, Ashville, Ohio.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Chicago School of Attendant Nursing.

Airman Hazen is presently stationed with the U.S. Air Force Base, where he is serving as a fuels specialist.

The open church wedding will be an event of 2 p.m., September 17, at the Rickenbacker AFB Chapel. A reception will be held immediately following the ceremony.

Ohio Farm Bureau Plan Women's Rally

An afternoon performance of "Accommodations" at the Country Dinner Playhouse in Reynoldsburg will highlight the September 30th Southeast Women's Rally of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

The rally, which begins at 10 a.m., will include a full day of singing and entertainment. Janet Henry of Orange Village will give a humorous talk about family living accompanied by cartoon illustrations. Her talk is titled "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way."

Tickets for the September 30th rally, which carries the theme "Farm Bureau Women on the Way!", will include lunch. They can be purchased from the Women's Committee Chairman, Mrs. Sally Stevens - 986-6909. The deadline for purchasing tickets will be September 15th.

Friendly Visitors Hold Meeting

The Friendly Visitors, of the Pickaway Senior Center, met August 9.

Plans were discussed for the shut-in party to be held on Wednesday at the Center. A committee was appointed for refreshments and calling.

A birthday party was planned for the patients at Circleville Manor honoring Edna Addis and Ellen DeLong. Friendly Visitor members volunteered to bake cakes and help with serving the patients.

Birthday cards and get well cards were signed to be sent to shut-ins, nursing home patients and those who are hospitalized.

Refreshments were served by Minnie Strawser and Bea Owens.

September meeting refreshments will be provided by Pauline Jones and Hazel Cline.

Garden Club Meets At Renick Home

Members and guests of the Circleville Garden Club met August 12, at the home of Harford and Dhel Renick, Route 3.

During the business session officers were selected for the coming year.

Mr. Renick's garden was the highlight of the meeting with its beds of yellow petunias and beds of impatiens in new shades. He has added many ferns to his collection of plants which are grown under fluorescent lights.

He has on display a group of ribbons won as International Awards for his exhibits.

Dr. Mary Holman Will Present Travelogue

Dr. Mary Holman, who has traveled quite extensively in Europe will show slides of several countries at the Pickaway County Senior Center Travelogue Club, at 1:30 p.m., Thursday.

Persons needing transportation may phone 474-4916 or 474-8209.

Cleveland Is Now City

Cleveland is now city! Modern and moving with the times, the "Forest City," ringed with an "Emerald Necklace" pulses with the energy and dynamism of her 1.6 million inhabitants.

Only in a great metropolis, is there such extravagant diversity of peoples, cultures, interests and entertainment.

Several of the nation's foremost cultural organizations are in the city. The Cleveland Play House, first professional resident theater company in the country was established 1916, and continues today with productions in its three theaters, which range from Shakespeare's classics to new plays. The Karamu House and Theater is a center for the arts with particular emphasis on the Black culture. The Lakewood Civic Auditorium is the home of the Great Lakes Shakespeare Festival which presents a complete repertoire of classic plays. And, of course, the fabulous Cleveland Orchestra has a regular winter series and presents concerts on weekend evenings at University Circle, from May through September, and then moves to its summer home, the Blossom Music Center for a full schedule of pop concerts from June through August.

Cleveland boasts various exceptional attractions to both tourists and its residents.

The Metroparks Zoological Park has one of the country's finest collections of mammals, hoofed animals and birds, displayed in their natural habitat.

Cleveland's Health Museum, which was the first museum in the Western Hemisphere to pioneer in health information and education, offers exhibits on all aspects of human growth and physiology. The museum has various notable permanent exhibits and regularly provides special exhibitions so that there is something new to see on every visit.

Working in cooperation with the Western Reserve University and Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland's Museum of Natural History is remarkable in its scope. Dedicated to the improvement of natural science education, the museum has expanded far beyond the walls of its parent facility, into the 12-acre grounds, into sanctuary lands, and into branch museums, which are extensions, not duplicates of the parent. Exhibits cover the broad categories of the geologic history of the earth, the beginnings of life, animals of the past, principles of biology, living animals and the story of primates and man.

Housed in Cleveland's Museum of Art are some of the most important art treasures in the world from all periods and all areas of civilization. In addition to its permanent collection, the museum conducts special exhibitions throughout the year, and offers a lecture series, film series, and art education classes for young and old.

However you visit Cleveland, on a guided tour or on your own, for a day or a week, or for part of your life, this surging, many-faceted city is one of Ohio's grand phenomena.

Bridge-A-Rama Ready To Begin Fourth Year Series

Applications are now being accepted for partners for Berger Hospital Guild's Bridge-A-Rama. Vacancies still exist for women's daytime and evening bridge and couple's evening bridge. The groups run from October through April, playing once a month. First, second and third prizes are distributed after the seven sessions are completed.

Players will become acquainted with others while contributing to Berger Hospital. Deadline for applications is September 1. All interested partners may contact Jean Hedges at 474-3335 or Barbara Harrison, 474-4964.

Reunion Held At Rocky Fork Lake

Descendants of Bryan Riffle held their second annual reunion recently at Rocky Fork Lake summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Ack Lovett.

Family members camped and celebrated birthdays during the weekend festivities.

Derby News

MRS. GEORGIA SWEET, 869-2462

The Rev. Linda Stafford conducted morning worship services at the Derby United Methodist Church Sunday. She spoke of how wrong it is to trust in worldly things in our lives. Find Christ she says, and depend on Him, thus, "Ask, and ye shall receive." The text was taken from Luke, 11: 2-13. Don't forget we have a flower calendar if you would like to give flowers for the altar in memory of a loved one and to help beautify the altar on Sunday. Our thanks to Eddie Weimer who arranges the flowers to the best advantage each Sunday. A word of praise too, for Jacqui Rice and Sally Graham, who play so beautifully for services on Sunday morning.

The Derby Worship Committee meets at 8 p.m. on Aug. 17 at the Church. Also the charge conference will be on Sept. 18.

Jim Musselman is recuperating from surgery the past week in Mt. Carmel West Hospital. Remember also the following in your prayer: Linda Miller, Florence Ball, Lloyd Grabill, Ruth Ridgway, Betty Tracy, Irma Clark, Mike Rodgers, Mike See, Herman Rowland and Bill Erb.

A Senior Citizen organization meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Aug. 22 at the Clark's Lake Civic Center for Clark's Lake and Derby area residents 55 years or older. Pat Windom and Emiline Nelson from the area and Vera Saunders, Senior Services coordinator for Pickaway County will help organize a club there. Its purpose will be to provide fun, food, fellowship, for our elderly citizens and provide crafts and games for them to enjoy.

A celebration took place Aug. 5 at the Pickaway County Fair. Held in the 4-H and Grange building, advisors from 1945 and before gathered at noon to commemorate the 75 years of 4-H clubs. They talked about away back when parents were as involved as the children, hogs and cattle were shown at Franklin and High Streets and of their building the coliseum, and buying the old fairgrounds. Those attending from this area were Clyde and Dorothy Michel, Helen Hedges, Mary Riddle, Mrs. Orville Shannon, and Casey V. Neal, also the oldest man present, (80), and who started in 4-H in 1933. The oldest advisor there was Corilla Pontius who is 94.

Linda Ridgway, Nancy Smith, and Don Smith have returned from a trip through Pennsylvania - visiting Lancaster, Gettysburg, and Hershey, the home of the Hershey Museum, visited the Amish country, its villages and museums, then motored on to New York State and visited Niagara Falls viewing from both the American and the Canadian side. They then traveled the Lake George and Lake Champlain route stopping to sight-see in the New England states of New Hampshire, Maine, and Vermont, spending several days in Bar Harbor. They visited the famous Maple Syrup Museum in St. Johnsbury, Vt. Accompanying them as far as Niagara Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Kerwin Durlinger, Tommy and Marci Jo who returned a few days early. The group returned by way of Boston, spending some time to see the state of Massachusetts.

Those interviewed on the radio from the Derby Homecoming were Roger Barton, Bill Green, Miss Derby Homecoming Susan Johnson, and Wendell, Gary and Mike Wardell. Barton, who heads the committee for the annual affair, stated that he believes Derby has something the others do not—Wendell Wardell has been helping fry fish each year for 40 years, his son Gary started helping at the age of six and his son Mike, now 10, has been their official helper for about five years now, breading the fish for frying — making three generations who work together each year at the fish stand, no doubt the reason they are so tasty, and the affair is such a big success.

Todd Hill, of Route 62 received a trophy for first place in hog showing at the Pickaway County Fair, and Debbie Wardell, 13, of Renick Road, received a first place trophy for her hooked rug entry of a grandfather's clock in Home Arts.

The clock has working parts and the hands really move.

Recent houseguests of Mrs. Mae Delay were former residents of Mrs. Elizabeth Arledge and Mabel Furniss. The ladies enjoyed seeing many friends and relatives during the Homecoming. The past week, Mrs. Andy Ohnewehr and Denise Gresh, Mrs. Delay's great granddaughter, were houseguests. They, along with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ohnewehr, Clyde and Beth, enjoyed the Pickaway County Fair during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Minister and daughter Mitzi of Bradenton, Florida visited with Mrs. Minister's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Delay and Huck. Both Fayette and Pickaway County Fairs were on their travel agenda the past two weeks, with a visit to Scioto Downs to see the Delays horse "Jet's Sunny Bee" finish third on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ohnewehr, Clyde and Beth and Mrs. Mae Delay were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Bill) Tracy. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tracy and Amy of near Columbus. A pleasant visit was enjoyed by Mrs. Delay and Mrs. Tracy who had not seen each other for sometime. Mrs. James Skidmore and daughter Julia were callers on her parents on Sunday also.

The members of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H club and their families, and their advisors and families attended a picnic at Deer Creek Dam on Sunday. Members are participating at the Ohio State Fair this week.

Its that time again. Harvest time. This used to mean a much more busy and complicated operation before the advent of the combine. The old time threshing machines were alright, but were prone to breaking down in the middle of the busiest times and holding things up for hours. Then the local blacksmith was called to repair or make a new part for the machine. Our first blacksmith I am told was named Smith. Then Frank Fast who died about seven years ago at the age of 97 was a blacksmith here. About 1906 my father and his friend Harley Tharp were partners in the blacksmithing business for many years in a building which stood at the rear of the former Warren Bauhan store. I was told recently that it was taken down and transported to a place in the Era area and rebuilt. I believe it is still standing today.

My father was not only a blacksmith till 1950 but he was also during those years an auto repairman, shoed horses, of course, but I have seen him build wooden wagons for farmers, repair pots and pans, shoes, fences, and he was gifted in that he could shape a piece of iron into the most intricate and delicate designs. He was a very handy man to have around at threshing time, because he could make a new part most of the time, and save a long trip to town for it. He was indeed the farmer's friend for he was often called out into the field where he worked in the sun to get the machinery working again. And the food that was served by the farmers' wives was fit for a king. The

20 Papers Nominated For Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — In Illinois, a newspaper's campaign revealing the absence of prenatal care for indigents prompted the establishment of hospital based clinics.

In South Carolina, a newspaper's graphic series of reports on rape and its victims brought about changes in state law.

An Ohio newspaper opened its pages to special educational materials to help meet a crisis occurring when schools were closed because of an energy shortage.

These three papers were among 20 finalists nominated Monday for the Associated Press Managing Editors Association Public Service Awards. Two winners will be named — one for papers with more than 50,000 circulation and one for smaller papers — at the APME convention in New Orleans, Oct. 25-28.

"All the judges were impressed by the depth and range of public service by U.S. newspapers shown in the 133 entries we considered," said Larry Jinks, editor of the San Jose, Calif., Mercury and News and chairman of the judging committee.

Jinks noted that the finalists included several examples of dogged reporting on complex public issues, farmers and their hired hands all worked together and also helped neighboring farmers to get the grain harvested. So the wives likewise got together and cooked and served the meals for the workers, at long tables with a variety of wholesome, home cooked food most of which was produced right there on the farm. Even the milk was from "home grown" cows. The eggs from chickens raised on the spot.

Soon after this, long lines of farm wagons behind tractors formed near the grain elevator for the grain to be weighed and sold there. It was this bringing in of crops that had led to the first homecoming celebrations in the area. This is still a busy time for the area farmers and lines still form at the elevator, but in those times the true meaning of food, fellowship and "love thy neighbor", was brought home to everyone. Memories of those long tables of food often served under shade trees in the farmyard, are still recalled by those who lived, shared and cared. Old-fashioned, perhaps, outdated, but it brought human beings closer together. Just maybe we could use a little more togetherness nowadays to bridge the gap and encourage stronger bonds of friendship and concern for our fellowman, and discourage the apathy that seems to have a grip on so many of us. It would be very interesting and a wonderful experience to go back for a little while into another time and find out.

involving heavy investment of manpower and newsprint.

As in the past, exposure of corruption was a favorite entry subject.

Finalists in the 50,000-and-over group, listed alphabetically by city, are:

The Boston Globe for continuing coverage of public personnel abuses in Boston and in Massachusetts.

The Chicago Tribune for its reports on the nationwide problem of child pornography.

The Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch for publication of special educational materials when schools were closed for several weeks because of a severe energy shortage.

The Detroit Free Press for a comprehensive series called: "Crime in Detroit: A Search for Solutions."

The Fort Myers, Fla., News-Press for articles on the misuse of federal funds earmarked for aid to needy farm workers.

The Houston Post for articles which helped lead to the removal of an associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

The Louisville Times for articles about financial mismanagement in the Jefferson County Public School System in Kentucky.

The Miami Herald for a probing study of automobile insurance problems in Florida.

Emergency Bill Signed By Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Monday an emergency bill that could help Ohio get more federal dollars for social service programs under the welfare department.

The measure completely revamps methods used by the department to plan for Title XX (social service) funding. The bill assures participation by the 88 county welfare departments which administer programs after their approval by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Rep. John A. Begala, D-62 Kent, the bill's sponsor, said Ohio has lost up to $100 million in Title XX funds in the past as a result of inadequate planning.

Also signed by Rhodes on Monday was another Begala measure which establishes programs in pediatric medicine at state-assisted medical schools. The legislature appropriated $365,000 to get the programs started and coordinated in the current biennium. Its effective date is Nov. 15.

Also approved by Rhodes, with Nov. 15 effective dates, were bills which allow school boards to name assistant superintendents to serve in superintendents' absences, revise appeals procedures of the board of tax equalization, and clarify statutes covering claims against real estate titles.

Over the weekend, Rhodes allowed to become law without his signature a bill that removes failure of liquor establishments to post signs warning of illegal purchases by minors as grounds for the revocation or suspension of liquor licenses.

Derby News

MRS. GEORGIA SWEET, 869-2462

The Rev. Linda Stafford conducted morning worship services at the Derby United Methodist Church Sunday. She spoke of how wrong it is to trust in worldly things in our lives. Find Christ she says, and depend on Him, thus, "Ask, and ye shall receive." The text was taken from Luke, 11: 2-13. Don't forget we have a flower calendar if you would like to give flowers for the altar in memory of a loved one and to help beautify the altar on Sunday. Our thanks to Eddie Weimer who arranges the flowers to the best advantage each Sunday. A word of praise too, for Jacqui Rice and Sally Graham, who play so beautifully for services on Sunday morning.

The Derby Worship Committee meets at 8 p.m. on Aug. 17 at the Church. Also the charge conference will be on Sept. 18.

Jim Musselman is recuperating from surgery the past week in Mt. Carmel West Hospital. Remember also the following in your prayer: Linda Miller, Florence Ball, Lloyd Grabill, Ruth Ridgway, Betty Tracy, Irma Clark, Mike Rodgers, Mike See, Herman Rowland and Bill Erb.

A Senior Citizen organization meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Aug. 22 at the Clark's Lake Civic Center for Clark's Lake and Derby area residents 55 years or older. Pat Windom and Emilene Nelson from the area and Vera Saunders, Senior Services coordinator for Pickaway County will help organize a club there. Its purpose will be to provide fun, food, fellowship, for our elderly citizens and provide crafts and games for them to enjoy.

A celebration took place Aug. 5 at the Pickaway County Fair. Held in the 4-H and Grange building, advisors from 1945 and before gathered at noon to commemorate the 75 years of 4-H clubs. They talked about away back when parents were as involved as the children, hogs and cattle were shown at Franklin and High Streets and of their building the coliseum, and buying the old fairgrounds. Those attending from this area were Clyde and Dorothy Michel, Helen Hedges, Mary Riddle, Mrs. Orville Shannon, and Casey V. Neal, also the oldest man present, (80), and who started in 4-H in 1933. The oldest advisor there was Corilla Pontius who is 94.

Linda Ridgway, Nancy Smith, and Don Smith have returned from a trip through Pennsylvania - visiting

Lancaster, Gettysburg, and Hershey, the home of the Hershey Museum, visited the Amish country, its villages and museums, then motored on to New York State and visited Niagara Falls viewing from both the American and the Canadian side. They then traveled the Lake George and Lake Champlain route stopping to sight-see in the New England states of New Hampshire, Maine, and Vermont, spending several days in Bar Harbor. They visited the famous Maple Syrup Museum in St. Johnsbury, Vt. Accompanying them as far as Niagara Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Kerwin Durlinger, Tommy and Marci Jo who returned a few days early. The group returned by way of Boston, spending some time to see the state of Massachusetts.

Those interviewed on the radio from the Derby Homecoming were Roger Barton, Bill Green, Miss Derby Homecoming Susan Johnson, and Wendell, Gary and Mike Wardell. Barton, who heads the committee for the annual affair, stated that he believes Derby has something the others do not—Wendell Wardell has been helping fry fish each year for 40 years, his son Gary started helping at the age of six and his son Mike, now 10, has been their official helper for about five years now, breeding the fish for frying — making three generations who work together each year at the fish stand, no doubt the reason they are so tasty, and the affair is such a big success.

Todd Hill, of Route 62 received a trophy for first place in hog showing at the Pickaway County Fair, and Debbie Wardell, 13, of Renick Road, received a first place trophy for her hooked rug entry of a grandfather's clock in Home Arts.

The clock has working parts and the hands really move.

Recent houseguests of Mrs. Mae Delay were former residents of Mrs. Elizabeth Arledge and Mabel Furniss. The ladies enjoyed seeing many friends and relatives during the Homecoming. The past week, Mrs. Andy Ohnewehr and Denise Gresh, Mrs. Delay's great granddaughter, were houseguests. They, along with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ohnewehr, Clyde and Beth, enjoyed the Pickaway County Fair during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Minister and daughter Mitzi of Bradenton, Florida visited with Mrs. Minister's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Delay and Huck. Both Fayette and Pickaway County Fairs were on their travel agenda the past two weeks, with a visit to Scioto Downs to see the Delays horse "Jet's Sunny Bee" finish third on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ohnewehr, Clyde and Beth and Mrs. Mae Delay were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Bill) Tracy. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tracy and Amy of near Columbus. A pleasant visit was enjoyed by Mrs. Delay and Mrs. Tracy who had not seen each other for sometime. Mrs. James Skidmore and daughter Julia were callers on her parents on Sunday also.

The members of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H club and their families, and their advisors and families attended a picnic at Deer Creek Dam on Sunday. Members are participating at the Ohio State Fair this week.

Its that time again. Harvest time. This used to mean a much more busy and complicated operation before the advent of the combine. The old time threshing machines were alright, but were prone to breaking down in the middle of the busiest times and holding things up for hours. Then the local blacksmith was called to repair or make a new part for the machine. Our first blacksmith I am told was named Smith. Then Frank Fast who died about seven years ago at the age of 97 was a blacksmith here. About 1906 my father and his friend Harley Tharp were partners in the blacksmithing business for many years in a building which stood at the rear of the former Warren Bauhan store. I was told recently that it was taken down and transported to a place in the Era area and rebuilt. I believe it is still standing today.

Mayor Denies Wrongdoing

AMHERST, Ohio (AP) — Amherst Mayor Anthony J. DePaola, indicted last week on charges of interfering with the rights of builders, denies any wrongdoing and insists he was only implementing this Lorain County town's strict building code against uncontrolled growth.

Moreover, the 48-year-old DePaola, a chemical engineer at U.S. Steel, retorts that the indictments wouldn't have been returned by a county grand jury if it weren't for a "political witch hunt" by Lorain County Prosecutor Joseph R. Grunda.

The indictments concern allegations that DePaola forced two Amherst businessmen to make property improvements and then required them to give the city some of the property.

There has been no charge that DePaola used his office for personal gain.

DePaola says he was doing nothing more than strictly enforcing the planning section of the city's ordinance. Among other things, the code demands 8-foot-wide sidewalks in areas of commercial development, cast iron pipes instead of plastic piping and it provides a sliding scale of fee permits.

State Runs Its Own Logging Sawmill

ZALESKI, Ohio (AP) — One of Ohio's smaller sawmills is run by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Its biggest customer is the state of Ohio. It cuts trees into lumber for many state agencies and their building projects.

Four men handle all the chores, from logging trees out of state forests to trucking them to the mill and running the saw.

For most of the past year they have worked in a carefully planned thinning program in Zaleski State Forest at the edge of this village in southeast Ohio.

The mill's production of 312,000

COAAA Advisory Board Meets

The Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging Advisory Board met in Columbus at the McDowell Center with Donald Parrot presiding.

The agenda included the events of the days activities. Committees meeting were the executive, Advocacy, Program, and Planning and Evaluation.

In the afternoon session the total body met for a review of the $70,000 supplementary funds to be allocated to the eight counties in Planning and Service Area 6.

Local delegates Pauline Jones and Vera Saunders attended.

Pickaway County was allocated $2,400 supplementary funds for a bookkeeper.

Ohio Sells Used Goods

The State of Ohio has a section, Investment Recovery Services, that sells used, but serviceable goods to the public.

But outside of Central Ohio, Investment Recovery is virtually unknown.

Charles B. Thompson, chief of Investment Recovery, said used items in the section are available to citizens throughout Ohio.

Investment Recovery, a part of the Ohio Department of Administrative Services, during the year offers a wide variety of surplus property for sale. Investment Recovery has 49 categories of equipment for sale to the highest bidder, including automobiles, boats and motors, washers and dryers, power saws, lawn mowers, typewriters, restaurant equipment and refrigerators.

The equipment is displayed for the public to see in Columbus and, at times, at state mental and correctional institutions and parks in all parts of Ohio.

Citizens can submit a sealed bid to Investment Recovery in Columbus. Any person who is interested in learning about sales can write to Investment Recovery Services, 427 Cleveland Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43215, or call (614) 466-5052.

Sales are planned as surplus property becomes available and the office will notify interested persons about sales in their areas of interest.

board feet of lumber last year compares to a statewide total of about 350 million board feet. It cut mostly oak, maple, hickory, poplar and some pine. Of the state mill's total, 202,500 board feet of hardwood came from the Zaleski forest. The rest came from other state forests in the area.

State cut lumber was used to build the Department of Natural Resources exhibit building at the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus. It also was used to renovate locks on the Muskingum River and for the original cabins and lodge at Lake Hope.

Much of the current production is for bridge planking, docks, sign posts, picnic tables, benches and duck blinds at various state facilities. Some goes to the Ohio Department of Transportation for use in highway construction and some framing timber has gone to Ohio University and Ohio State University.

MacKenzie A. Decker, state forest manager, said any surplus is sold to private citizens and lumber companies but that private sales are a small portion of total production.

The Zaleski sawmill, the only logging-sawmill run by the state, is also used as an educational facility. Decker said naturalist tours are conducted from the Lake Hope Environmental Center and student groups from area high schools and colleges visit the mill to see lumber made.

The Zaleski crewmen don't just go into a woods to log out trees at will or to clear the land. They carefully follow a management plan developed especially for the forest by state forestry experts.

"The management plan controls everything we do in the forest," Decker said. "It outlines which trees will be cut to improve a stand and which areas will be clear cut. It designates hunting and camping areas and where the hiking and bridle trails will go."

"And it also includes the protection and reforestation programs."

Ohio's first land purchase in the Zaleski area was made in 1931, when a 3,400-acre estate was acquired. During the depression years of the early 1930s the federal government bought rural homes and farms in the area in a resettlement program. These were later transferred to other federal agencies and Ohio acquired the lands in 1958.

Also in the 1930s, the federal government began the Civilian Conservation Corps to give work to unemployed men. Part of that effort was a sawmill here and at other camps around Ohio. When that ended in 1942, the sawmills at CCC camps around Ohio reverted to state operation. They produced lumber for the war effort during World War II.

When the war ended they were gradually phased out until only three remained. A mill at Shawnee was later destroyed by fire. Another at Scioto Trail State Forest was shut down when it became too deteriorated for repairs.

Commercial sawmills in Ohio have also dropped sharply in recent years. The Ohio Forestry Association says there were 1,200 of them in 1950 but that the number has dropped to around 300 now.

At one time Ohio had many small sawmills on farms but national safety regulations and economics forced most of them out of operation. The state's total timber production is now about 350 million board feet a year, about the same as it was in 1950.

Ninety-seven percent of the state's lumber production is hardwood, used for furniture, toys, railroad ties, pallets and similar products. Forestry officials say soft wood is a minimum part of the Ohio lumber production.

Elvis Generation
Feeling Older

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Suddenly a generation feels old. Elvis, the slick-haired, sneering-lipped, slinky-hipped king of their teen-age rock 'n' roll dreams is dead.

It is enough to say Elvis; just as it was enough to say Ike, the fellow in the White House when the king claimed his throne.

His hips twisted, his body shook, he had a way of looking at you sideways, with his chin pulled in, that said more than his curling lips could. He was as cock-sure as a strutting rooster and twice as proud; as proud and as cer-

File Brief

CLEVELAND (AP) — A federal designation of the controversial "Blanket Hill" area of the Kent State University campus as a national landmark, would not prevent construction on the site, according to university lawyers.

KSU attorney Stephen T. Parisi filed a brief with U.S. District Court Judge Thomas D. Lambros on Tuesday saying even if the Interior Department makes the area a national landmark, there is nothing in the Constitution that would prevent the trustees, as state officials, from building there.

The May 4th Coalition has been protesting the school's plans to build a $6 million gymnasium annex near the site where four students died and nine were wounded by National Guard fire in 1970.

In the brief, Parisi argued that the constitutional protection of a citizen's right to petition for redress of grievances is limited.

He said the First Amendment only guarantees that those who petition for change will not be arrested or otherwise punished. The trustees have not interfered with the attempts to secure the landmark designation, he said.

Lawyers for the coalition argued in their brief that Lambros should continue the construction ban so there would be an unchanged site for federal authorities to consider. That decision is not expected until March.

A total of 237 demonstrators were arrested in July for occupying the site before Lambros issued the temporary restraining order. The order stopped construction until today when it was scheduled to be reconsidered by the court.

The annex complaint differs from standard civil litigation because, strictly speaking, the trustees violated no laws when they decided to build on the site.

The plaintiffs, therefore, have had to base their claim on the contention that the construction would deny their constitutional right to petition for the redress of a grievance.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings are under way in the legislature on a bill that could help persuade U.S. Steel Corp. to locate a new $4 billion plant near Conneaut.

It would give the corporation a break on tangible personal property taxes, while at the same time assuring no loss of existing local tax revenues, says the sponsor, Rep. Robert J. Boggs, D-97 Jefferson.

His measure, however, currently is part of an industrial tax incentive package being studied by the House Ways and Means subcommittee, and the package may not emerge until after Jan. 1, near the time when a U.S. Steel site decision is anticipated.

Chairman George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, said Tuesday he is concerned about Boggs' bill and others that could have detrimental effects on local government taxing units, such as school districts, despite Boggs' assurance of built in safeguards.

"I favor the local approach," said Tablack, adding that he doubts the wisdom of mandating from Columbus that local governments must grant exemptions and tax breaks to industries.

He meant, he said, he would prefer that the legislature make the deductions optional on the part of the local taxing district. In addition, he said he would want the legislation to include language prohibiting an industry from moving from county to another, for instance, to take advantage of a tax situation.

tain as his adolescent fans longed to be.

From the tips of his blue suede shoes to top of that 40-weight oil hairdo, he was the most. That's what they said in those days. "The most."

Ducktails were as common as Elvis fan clubs. Kids who hoped to go to Harvard tried to speak with the inflections of the sons of Mississippi dirt farmers — just like he did.

That didn't worry the parents so much. It was the sex that concerned them. That's what Presley was about. Sex. He brought it out into the open. He took the raunchy back beat of the black blues and made it top 40 fare — with just enough whitewash to give it the patina of respectability.

There's a red-haired woman with two children, a woman who'll be 30 this year and who used to watch Elvis play pickup football on a grade school playground in her Memphis neighborhood.

When she heard the news Tuesday night all she could say was, "Who? Who? Who?" Her voice rose with each question, as if the news would change. A part of her — a blushing, rubbernecking, gosh-and-golly schoolgirl memory — seemed strangely more distant.

She used to hang on the gate of Graceland mansion, hoping for just a peek of Elvis. "Just waiting to see a glimpse of the king," she said. "And I did. A couple of times. In my mind he was unapproachable. My gosh, he was a star. No, he wasn't just a star. I just felt giddy, you know how 13-year-old girls do. What girl just didn't feel tingly all over the place just thinking about him?"

Some of her peers remember having their first really serious fight with their parents over Elvis. There was one night in particular, a Sunday evening back in 1956, when Ed Sullivan gave the nation its first look at its newest bad boy. Families fought at dinner whether children should watch the show.

The tube was going to bring a kid with a sassy Southern drawl and swivel hips who needed a haircut to life in their living rooms. From the looks of him, he didn't care a broken-guitar string for what the parents thought. And the kids loved him for that.

There were so many screaming bobby-soxers in Sullivan's studio audience that nearly no one in TV land could hear Elvis' voice through the din. Didn't Sullivan say something to them about being quiet? And remember that girl in the long dark skirt who stood up in the aisle and fainted?

"Love me tender, love me sweet, never let me go. You have made my life complete, and I love you so." The kids didn't have to have that explained to them.

There wasn't much the folks could do. Anyway, the guy mumbled.

He was the king. The king is dead. And a generation suddenly feels old.

"Tradition" is the main theme behind the play, "Fiddler on the Roof" now showing on the Kenley Players stage in Columbus.

Ed Ames, playing Teyve, the father of five girls, explains all the traditional acts of the Jewish section of Anatevka, Russia at the beginning of the play. The main one involves the "Matchmaker" and the traditional way of the father choosing his daughter's future husband.

The two above-mentioned songs and several others, including "If I Were a Rich Man," and "Sunrise, Sunset" were harmonized perfectly from the Kenley Stage and the polka style dancing, which was about as continuous as the music, was also done to perfection.

Ed Ames, playing the lead role, has co-starred recently in the movie, "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," with Kirk Douglas. Since that time, he has been seen in the television series "Daniel Boone."

The versatile man has also recorded several hit songs including "Try to Remember," "My Cup Runneth Over," and "Who Will Answer." His parents were from a small village in Russia, similar to the one featured in "Fiddler." Their stories of those early days has helped Ames involve himself fully in the role of Teyve.

His wife in the performance, Golde, is played by Providence Hollander. She has starred as the lead singing role in several playhouses, including the shows "110 in the Shade," "Once Upon a Mattress," and "South Pacific."

This week's showing of "Fiddler" will run through Sunday, at Veteran's Memorial in Columbus.

Households Decreasing In Size

WASHINGTON (AP) — Smaller packages of hamburger may appear at the neighborhood grocery store and more one-bedroom apartments may be built if businessmen act on a new government report showing that over half of all American households have only one or two persons.

The Census Bureau said Tuesday that in March 1976, 51.2 per cent of the nation's households contained no more than two persons, compared with 40.9 per cent in 1960.

Average household size has decreased, the report says, because more people are getting divorced, fewer babies are being born and more young adults are postponing marriage. And more people — both young and old — are setting up house alone or with a friend.

The report says the data will have "a substantial impact on the level of demand for a vast array of products and services, including housing, education and health care."

Married couples last year made up 65 per cent of the nation's 73 million households, the figures show, down from 71 per cent in 1970.

The report also shows that the number of households of at least six persons is decreasing rapidly.

Last year only seven of every 100 households were that size or larger, the government says, compared with 11 of every 100 households in 1960.

The government defines a household as all the persons occupying a single housing unit.

The report also shows that despite the rising cost of housing, many young married couples are still purchasing homes. About half of such couples owned their own homes in 1970, compared with 57 per cent last year.

Carter Must Buy Book Too — Lillian

ATLANTA (AP) — President Carter has been told if he wants a book of his mother's letters to the family, he'll have to buy it like anyone else.

The President called Monday while his mother, Lillian, was holding an autograph party to celebrate publication of the book.

"You'll just have to buy one," she was overheard to say into the telephone. Mrs. Carter, known as Miss Lillian, said later it was the President, who wanted to know if she would give him a copy of the book.

A group of family friends from Plains purchased a copy of the book and carried it through the line for Miss Lillian's autograph and said they would send it to the President.

The President's sister, Gloria Spann, collected the letters and had them published.

Fluorocarbons Outlawed By April 15, 1978

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Tuesday a bill outlawing in Ohio, after next April 15, spray cans using fluorocarbons as propellants, such as those in some hair sprays, deodorants and other products.

"This act has the very important goal of protecting our environment for future generations," the governor said. "Reliable scientists have warned that these fluorocarbons can damage the ozone layer in the earth's stratosphere and thereby induce more skin cancer in humans as well as damage to vegetation."

Rhodes also signed Tuesday an immediately effective emergency bill that gives property owners three extra months, until Oct. 1, to request lower property tax valuations as a result of storms and tornadoes which hit a large area of northwest Ohio in late June.

The usual deadline for making such applications to the county auditor would have been July 1.

These other measures, signed Tuesday, become effective Nov. 16 and will:

—Permit township trustees to adopt building regulations.

—Allow for expungement of fingerprint records if an accused party has the charges against him dismissed.

—Clarify state banking statutes.

Households Decreasing In Size

WASHINGTON (AP) — Smaller packages of hamburger may appear at the neighborhood grocery store and more one-bedroom apartments may be built if businessmen act on a new government report showing that over half of all American households have only one or two persons.

The Census Bureau said Tuesday that in March 1976, 51.2 per cent of the nation's households contained no more than two persons, compared with 40.9 per cent in 1960.

Average household size has decreased, the report says, because more people are getting divorced, fewer babies are being born and more young adults are postponing marriage. And more people — both young and old — are setting up house alone or with a friend.

The report says the data will have "a substantial impact on the level of demand for a vast array of products and services, including housing, education and health care."

Married couples last year made up 65 per cent of the nation's 73 million households, the figures show, down from 71 per cent in 1970.

The report also shows that the number of households of at least six persons is decreasing rapidly.

Last year only seven of every 100 households were that size or larger, the government says, compared with 11 of every 100 households in 1960.

The government defines a household as all the persons occupying a single housing unit.

The report also shows that despite the rising cost of housing, many young married couples are still purchasing homes. About half of such couples owned their own homes in 1970, compared with 57 per cent last year.

Carter Must Buy Book Too — Lillian

ATLANTA (AP) — President Carter has been told if he wants a book of his mother's letters to the family, he'll have to buy it like anyone else.

The President called Monday while his mother, Lillian, was holding an autograph party to celebrate publication of the book.

"You'll just have to buy one," she was overheard to say into the telephone. Mrs. Carter, known as Miss Lillian, said later it was the President, who wanted to know if she would give him a copy of the book.

A group of family friends from Plains purchased a copy of the book and carried it through the line for Miss Lillian's autograph and said they would send it to the President.

The President's sister, Gloria Spann, collected the letters and had them published.

Fluorocarbons Outlawed By April 15, 1978

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Tuesday a bill outlawing in Ohio, after next April 15, spray cans using fluorocarbons as propellants, such as those in some hair sprays, deodorants and other products.

"This act has the very important goal of protecting our environment for future generations," the governor said. "Reliable scientists have warned that these fluorocarbons can damage the ozone layer in the earth's stratosphere and thereby induce more skin cancer in humans as well as damage to vegetation."

Rhodes also signed Tuesday an immediately effective emergency bill that gives property owners three extra months, until Oct. 1, to request lower property tax valuations as a result of storms and tornadoes which hit a large area of northwest Ohio in late June.

The usual deadline for making such applications to the county auditor would have been July 1.

These other measures, signed Tuesday, become effective Nov. 16 and will:

—Permit township trustees to adopt building regulations.

—Allow for expungement of fingerprint records if an accused party has the charges against him dismissed.

—Clarify state banking statutes.

Phillies Win 13th Straight Game

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies are getting all the bounces these days — even the bad ones.

Supposedly constructed to provide true bounces, the carpet at Montreal's Olympic Stadium turned up a nice kink for the National League East leaders Tuesday night.

The ball off the bat of Dave Johnson hit a seam in left field, skipped by Montreal's Del Unser, skittered to the wall and turned into a two-run triple that helped the streaking Phillies beat the Expos 7-5.

"That was unexpected," said Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark, "but I guess those are the breaks you get when you are winning."

Johnson's triple highlighted a five-run eighth inning, sending the Phillies on their way to their 13th straight victory and providing them with a 4½-game lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"No one knows how good we can be," said relief pitcher Gene Garber. "We're capable of finishing in first and that's where we'll be in first."

The Pirates dropped further behind the Phillies by dropping a 15-inning, 6-5 decision to the Chicago Cubs. In other National League action, the West-leading Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the San Francisco Giants 3-2; the Cincinnati Reds turned back the San Diego Padres 5-1; the New York Mets whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1 and the Houston Astros defeated the Atlanta Braves 4-1.

Cubs 6, Pirates 5
Chicago beat Pittsburgh as Bobby Murcer scored the winning run in the 15th inning on second baseman Rennie Stennett's throwing error.

The triumph broke a five-game Cub losing streak and ended Pittsburgh's seven-game winning streak. Willie Hernandez, 6-4, picked up the victory in relief while Larry Demery, 5-4, was the loser.

Dodgers 3, Giants 2
Dusty Baker's run-scoring single capped a two-run rally in the ninth inning that boosted Los Angeles over

San Francisco.

A two-out error by third baseman Bill Madlock allowed the tying run to come home after San Francisco's Derrel Thomas had broken a 1-1 tie in the eighth with a homer.

John Montefusco took a 2-1 lead into the ninth but was lifted when Reggie Smith led off with a single. Randy Moffitt took over, and after Ron Cey sacrificed Smith to second, Steve Garvey struck out.

Reds 5, Padres 1

Pete Rose and Dan Driessen each homered to back Tom Seaver's five-hit pitching and power Cincinnati over San Diego.

Seaver, 13-5, pitched his 12th complete game of the season, his seventh for the Reds, the most by any Cincinnati pitcher. Since being acquired by the New York Mets in a four-for-one blockbuster trade June 15, Seaver has a 6-2 record.

Mets 5, Cardinals 1

Steve Henderson and Doug Flynn each collected three hits to help New York whip St. Louis behind righthander Pat Zachry's seven-hitter. Henderson also scored two runs as New York blasted St. Louis pitcher Tom Underwood, Butch Metzger and Al Hrabosky for 11 hits.

Zachry, 6-12, weathered three singles and a walk that produced the St. Louis run after two were out in the first inning and went on to pitch his strongest game for the Mets since his acquisition in the Seaver deal.

Astros 4, Braves 1

Rob Sperring had three hits and drove in one run and two other runs scored on errors as Houston beat Atlanta. Mark Lemongello, 5-1, pitched eight innings for the Astros, scattering 10 hits and working out of a bases-loaded jam in the third after the Braves had scored their run.

The Astros scored their runs on Cesar Cedeño's RBI grounder in the first, throwing errors by shortstop Jerry Royster in the third and third baseman Barry Bonnell in the fifth and Sperring's RBI double in the eighth.

Little Jim Corbett Sticks With Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — As pro tight ends go, Jim Corbett of the Cincinnati Bengals is a spruce among sequoias. By modern measurements, he is too skinny, too light, and too low on the draft totem pole to stick with a veteran team.

But Corbett, a captain on the Pitt Panthers national championship football team last year, has a history as an opportunist.

Three years ago, when he showed for his first practice under Johnny Majors, he made something less than a big impression.

Designated as a sixth-team tight end, the slender Erie, Pa., native waited for opportunity to knock.

"Through injuries I was moved up to third team. Then, the second team tight end got hurt and the first team tight end got hurt."

Suddenly, Corbett had the chance he was waiting for—and made good, ending up on as strong blocker for Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett. Pitt went 12-0 last year, capping the season with a Sugar Bowl victory. Corbett, a 6-foot3½, 215-pounder, was just three weeks into his pro career when "opportunity was just staring me right in the face."

One of four tight ends in camp and the lowest of three rookie draft picks, Corbett, a seventh round choice, is the only healthy member among the trio of newcomers.

Injuries have struck massive Mike Cobb, a first round choice out of Michigan, and UCLA star Rick Walker, a fourth round pick who broke his arm.

As a result, Corbett played most of last Saturday's game against Tampa Bay, alternating in oppressive humidity with veteran Bob Trumpy.

His first taste of pro football served as just an appetizer.

"I'm here to stay," said Corbett, who was used only as a blocker in the 45-0 rout of the Buccaneers. "They're gonna have to give me a boot to get me out of here."

He realizes size will be his biggest liability.

"If I do make it here or anywhere else, I have to gain some weight," he said.

But, he adds, "since I'm not as big as a lot of tight ends, I try to get there quicker."

Stapleton Place Wins Buckeye Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Stapleton Place won the Buckeye State pace off for 2-year-olds at the Ohio State Fair Tuesday, after finishing second in the second division.

Stapleton Place beat Fritz the Cat two lengths in 2:03 4-5, picking up $11,431 to make his lifetime winnings $33,486.

The colt, driven by Doug McIntosh, was purchased by Eric Shores of Wheatly, Canada, at the Ohio Tattersalls sales in Columbus last fall for $1,500. He has won seven of his nine starts, including two seconds.

The winner of the first division, Famous Chris, was 1-3 and Fritz the Cat had a 1-2 finish. Famous Chris also won the second division and finished third in the pace off.

The 3-year-old filly trot went to Bea C Note in straight heats for owner Charles Beaver of Sunbury, Ohio. The filly was driven by Bob Davenport.

Chambliss' 2-Run Homer In Ninth Gives New York Yankees 11-10 Win

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Chris Chambliss has a flair for the dramatic but a poor memory on who's pitching.

The New York first baseman blasted a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth off rookie Randy Wiles to give the Yankees a wild 11-10 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night in a game that saw 12 runs scored in the final two innings.

"I didn't hit it real good," Chambliss said of his ninth-inning heroics. "The short fence helped me."

But Chambliss didn't realize he was hitting against Wiles, who was brought up from the minors earlier this month. Chambliss thought the pitcher was White Sox reliever Dave Hamilton, who faced one batter in the eighth inning.

"Yeah, I've faced him before," Chambliss said. When told it was Wiles, he replied: "Oh, it wasn't Hamilton. Well, I watched him warm up anyway."

In other AL games Tuesday, Boston defeated Kansas City 5-3, Baltimore edged Minnesota 6-5 in 13 innings, California stopped Toronto 7-2, Oakland downed Cleveland 7-3, Seattle nipped Detroit 3-2 and Texas clobbered Milwaukee 11-3.

The Yankees had snapped a 4-4 tie in the seventh, then scored four runs in the eighth to take a 9-4 lead. But Jim Spencer slammed his second homer of the game, a two-run shot, to trigger a six-run Chicago rally in the top of the ninth and give the White Sox a 10-9 lead.

Thurman Munson led off the New York half of the ninth with a walk, and one out later, Chambliss connected for his game-winning blast.

Red Sox 5, Royals 3

Boston rallied for its 16th victory in the last 17 games when Butch Hobson drilled a three-run homer and triggered a tiebreaking two-run seventh inning with a single to down

Kansas City.

Hobson belted his 23rd homer into the left field screen in the fourth off Kansas City's Mark Littell, making his first start of the season. Then he started the Boston seventh with a single, took second on a sacrifice, moved to third on an infield single and scored on Rick Burleson's single. Fred Lynn's sacrifice fly scored an insurance run.

Doug DeCinces snapped a slump with a single to drive in Eddie Murray with the winning run as Baltimore clipped Kansas City in 13 innings. Murray led off the inning with a double off loser Tom Johnson, 12-5, as Dennis Martinez, 11-6, got the victory in relief.

The Orioles had tied the score 5-5 with a four-run rally in the seventh, capped by Lee May's two-run homer. It was May's 20th homer of the season and his third in four games.

Rod Carew, the AL's leading hitter, had four hits to raise his average to .383. Minnesota's Larry Hise increased his league-leading RBI total to 93 with a sacrifice fly in the fourth.

Rangers 11, Brewers 3

Texas exploded for six runs in the second inning, sparked by Claudell Washington's two-run double, to roll over Milwaukee. Washington had four hits and knocked in three runs while Bump Wills and Jim Sundberg had two RBIs apiece as Doyle Alexander, 13-7, limited the Brewers to just seven hits.

The victory gave Texas a share of second place in the AL West.

Don Money hit his 20th home run and Cecil Cooper his 14th for Milwaukee.

Mariners 3, Tigers 2

A two-run homer by Bob Stinson in the sixth inning snapped Seattle's nine-game losing streak as the Mariners edged Detroit. Glenn Abbott picked up his seventh consecutive victory, pitching out of trouble often as he scattered 10 hits and was helped by four double plays.

Jason Thompson blasted his 22nd home run of the year for Detroit. A's 7, Indians 3

Jerry Tabb slammed a pair of leadoff home runs and Manny Sanguillen added a solo blast as Oakland won for the second time in its last 18 games and snapped Cleveland's three-game winning streak.

Vida Blue, 11-15, got the complete-game victory as Tabb led off the second and fourth innings with homers. Sanguillen slammed his home run in the second.

Angels 7, Blue Jays 2

Paul Hartzell's three-hit pitching was backed by home runs by Tony Solaita and Bobby Bonds and a two-run triple by Gil Flores as California defeated Toronto. Trailing 2-1, Dave Chalk led off the sixth with a walk and Rance Mulliniks was safe on an error. Flores then followed with his triple off the center field fence.

Solaita hit his 10th home run of the season in the seventh and Bonds belted his 30th in the ninth, tying him for the league's leadership with Jim Rice of the Boston Red Sox.

Bowling At A Glance

The guys and gals were busy racking and stacking the pins again last week at Circle D Lanes.

In the Sunday Night Mixed League, it was Mike Diltz as the leader with a 258 high single and a 614 for high individual series.

The Friday Mens league saw Lloyd Wall fire a 222 for high singles honors.

In the Thursday Mixed league, it was Butch Ford with a 256, and Dick Cupp with a 234 in high singles competition. Dick Cupp also fired a 611 for high individual series honors.

The Ladies Summer Classic saw Bev Ferguson roll a 231 and Linda Glitt had a 203 in high singles competition. In high individual series competition, it was Bev Ferguson with a 586, Betty Bolosher had a 531, Linda Glitt had a 510, Marty Sharrett had a 504, and Judy Hart fired a 503.

In Tuesday Nite Mixed action, Ron Agin fired a 212 in high individual singles competition, and Agin and Ken Arsenault both rolled a 562. Sharon Welsh also had a 542.

In the Monday Mens League, it was Paul Evans with a 222 in high singles competition.

Muzzle Loader Shoot Set Sunday

The Pickaway Gun Club will hold a muzzle loader shoot this Sunday at the club grounds on U.S. Route 22.

Seaver Notches Sixth Win Since Joining Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Tom Seaver takes his case to opposing batters, the defense does not rest.

"I'm just keeping the ball in play, in the ballpark where they can handle it. That's been my main job here," said Seaver, after boosting his record to 13-5 Tuesday night with a five-hit, 5-1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"You have to give the defense a lot of credit," said Seaver, who notched his sixth victory in eight decisions since being acquired by the Reds in a four-for-one blockbuster trade two months ago.

Seaver, who called the Reds "the best defensive team I've pitched for," also got home run help from Dan Driessen and Pete Rose while going the distance for the seventh time in 11 starts for the Reds.

The Reds' third straight victory, their longest winning streak in more than a month, rekindled Manager Sparky Anderson's comeback hopes.

"I think if we win 95 games, we can do it," said Anderson, aware that the Reds would have to win 34 of their last 43 games to reach that figure.

Conceding nothing to Western Division-leading Los Angeles, Anderson wants to see how the Dodgers would react if the Reds can move within striking distance.

"I just got a feeling that if somebody makes a rush at them, they'll only win 93 games," said Anderson.

"If we put any heat on them, I'll be very surprised if they wouldn't back away."

Driessen slammed his 15th home run leading off the inning and Rose followed Seaver's single with his ninth homer to break the game open in the seventh inning.

Keep Lid On WHA Meetings

MONTREAL (AP) — After a five-hour afternoon session and another brief night meeting, the World Hockey Association's board of trustees said that, basically, they had nothing to reveal about their closed-door sessions.

The WHA magnates will meet again today and likely Thursday as they try to plan the 1977-78 season.

"There will be a WHA next season," said Ben Hatskin, chairman of the board of trustees. "It will have seven or eight teams."

But which teams will participate is anybody's guess at this point, although Hatskin said that the six clubs which failed to gain entry into the rival National Hockey League — the Quebec Nordiques, New England Whalers, Houston Aeros, Cincinnati Stingers, Edmonton Oilers and Winnipeg Jets — are likely to be included.

Birmingham Bulls also appear ready to operate with the Calgary Cowboys or Indianapolis Racers a possible eighth team.

There has been growing speculation that the Oilers owners would leave the WHA and purchase the ailing Colorado Rockies' NHL concession and transfer it to Edmonton.

But while Oilers' co-owner Nelson Skalbania says his group would like to get the Rockies, it is highly unlikely they will make a move in that direction in time for the 1977-78 season.

But Chambliss didn't realize he was hitting against Wiles, who was brought up from the minors earlier this month. Chambliss thought the pitcher was White Sox reliever Dave Hamilton, who faced one batter in the eighth inning.

"Yeah, I've faced him before," Chambliss said. When told it was Wiles, he replied: "Oh, it wasn't Hamilton. Well, I watched him warm up anyway."

In other AL games Tuesday, Boston defeated Kansas City 5-3, Baltimore edged Minnesota 6-5 in 13 innings, California stopped Toronto 7-2, Oakland downed Cleveland 7-3, Seattle nipped Detroit 3-2 and Texas clobbered Milwaukee 11-3.

The Yankees had snapped a 4-4 tie in the seventh, then scored four runs in the eighth to take a 9-4 lead. But Jim Spencer slammed his second homer of the game, a two-run shot, to trigger a six-run Chicago rally in the top of the ninth and gave the White Sox a 10-9 lead.

Thurman Munson led off the New York half of the ninth with a walk, and one out later, Chambliss connected for his game-winning blast.

Red Sox 5, Royals 3

Boston rallied for its 16th victory in the last 17 games when Butch Hobson drilled a three-run homer and triggered a tiebreaking two-run seventh inning with a single to down

Kansas City.

Hobson belted his 23rd homer into the left field screen in the fourth off Kansas City's Mark Littell, making his first start of the season. Then he started the Boston seventh with a single, took second on a sacrifice, moved to third on an infield single and scored on Rick Burleson's single. Fred Lynn's sacrifice fly scored an insurance run.

Doug DeCinces snapped a slump with a single to drive in Eddie Murray with the winning run as Baltimore clipped Kansas City in 13 innings. Murray led off the inning with a double off loser Tom Johnson, 12-5, as Dennis Martinez, 11-6, got the victory in relief.

The Orioles had tied the score 5-5 with a four-run rally in the seventh, capped by Lee May's two-run homer. It was May's 20th homer of the season and his third in four games.

Rod Carew, the AL's leading hitter, had four hits to raise his average to .383. Minnesota's Larry Hisle increased his league-leading RBI total to 93 with a sacrifice fly in the fourth.

Rangers 11, Brewers 3

Texas exploded for six runs in the second inning, sparked by Claudell Washington's two-run double, to roll over Milwaukee. Washington had four hits and knocked in three runs while Bump Wills and Jim Sundberg had two RBIs apiece as Doyle Alexander, 13-7, limited the Brewers to just seven hits.

The victory gave Texas a share of second place in the AL West.

Don Money hit his 20th home run and Cecil Cooper his 14th for Milwaukee.

Mariners 3, Tigers 2

A two-run homer by Bob Stinson in the sixth inning snapped Seattle's nine-game losing streak as the Mariners edged Detroit. Glenn Abbott picked up his seventh consecutive victory, pitching out of trouble often as he scattered 10 hits and was helped by four double plays.

Jason Thompson blasted his 22nd home run of the year for Detroit. A's 7, Indians 3.

Jerry Tabb slammed a pair of leadoff home runs and Manny Sanguillen added a solo blast as Oakland won for the second time in its last 18 games and snapped Cleveland's three-game winning streak.

Vida Blue, 11-15, got the complete-game victory as Tabb led off the second and fourth innings with homers. Sanguillen slammed his home run in the second.

Angels 7, Blue Jays 2

Paul Hartzell's three-hit pitching was backed by home runs by Tony Solaita and Bobby Bonds and a two-run triple by Gil Flores as California defeated Toronto. Trailing 2-1, Dave Chalk led off the sixth with a walk and Rance Mulliniks was safe on an error. Flores then followed with his triple off the center field fence.

Solaita hit his 10th home run of the season in the seventh and Bonds belted his 30th in the ninth, tying him for the league's leadership with Jim Rice of the Boston Red Sox.

Bowling At A Glance

Little Jim Corbett Sticks With Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — As pro tight ends go, Jim Corbett of the Cincinnati Bengals is a spruce among sequoias.

By modern measurements, he is too skinny, too light, and too low on the draft totem pole to stick with a veteran team.

But Corbett, a captain on the Pitt Panthers national championship football team last year, has a history as an opportunist.

Three years ago, when he showed for his first practice under Johnny Majors, he made something less than a big impression.

Designated as a sixth-team tight end, the slender Erie, Pa., native waited for opportunity to knock.

"Through injuries I was moved up to third team. Then, the second team tight end got hurt and the first team tight end got hurt."

Suddenly, Corbett had the chance he was waiting for—and made good, ending up on as strong blocker for Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett. Pitt went 12-0 last year, capping the season with a Sugar Bowl victory. Corbett, a 6-foot3½, 215-pounder, was just three weeks into his pro career when "opportunity was just staring me right in the face."

One of four tight ends in camp and the lowest of three rookie draft picks, Corbett, a seventh round choice, is the only healthy member among the trio of newcomers.

Injuries have struck massive Mike Cobb, a first round choice out of Michigan, and UCLA star Rick Walker, a fourth round pick who broke his arm.

As a result, Corbett played most of last Saturday's game against Tampa Bay, alternating in oppressive humidity with veteran Bob Trumpy.

His first taste of pro football served as just an appetizer.

"I'm here to stay," said Corbett, who was used only as a blocker in the 45-0 rout of the Buccaneers. "They're gonna have to give me a boot to get me out of here."

He realizes size will be his biggest liability.

"If I do make it here or anywhere else, I have to gain some weight," he said.

But, he adds, "since I'm not as big as a lot of tight ends, I try to get there quicker."

Stapleton Place

Wins Buckeye Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Stapleton Place won the Buckeye State pace off for 2-year-olds at the Ohio State Fair Tuesday, after finishing second in the second division.

Stapleton Place beat Fritz the Cat two lengths in 2:03 4-5, picking up $11,431 to make his lifetime winnings $33,486.

The colt, driven by Douh McIntosh, was purchased by Eric Shores of Wheatly, Canada, at the Ohio Tattersalls sales in Columbus last fall for $1,500. He has won seven of his nine starts, including two seconds.

The winner of the first division, Famous Chris, was 1-3 and Fritz the Cat had a 1-2 finish. Famous Chris also won the second division and finished third in the pace off.

The 3-year-old filly trot went to Bea C Note in straight heats for owner Charles Beaver of Sunbury, Ohio. The filly was driven by Bob Davenport.

Seaver Notches Sixth Win Since Joining Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Tom Seaver takes his case to opposing batters, the defense does not rest. "I'm just keeping the ball in play, in the ballpark where they can handle it. That's been my main job here," said Seaver, after boosting his record to 13-5 Tuesday night with a five-hit, 5-1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"You have to give the defense a lot of credit," said Seaver, who notched his sixth victory in eight decisions since being acquired by the Reds in a four-for-one blockbuster trade two months ago.

Seaver, who called the Reds "the best defensive team I've pitched for," also got home run help from Dan Driessen and Pete Rose while going the distance for the seventh time in 11

starts for the Reds.

The Reds' third straight victory, their longest winning streak in more than a month, rekindled Manager Sparky Anderson's comeback hopes.

"I think if we win 95 games, we can do it," said Anderson, aware that the Reds would have to win 34 of their last 43 games to reach that figure.

Conceding nothing to Western Division-leading Los Angeles, Anderson wants to see how the Dodgers would react if the Reds can move within striking distance.

"I just got a feeling that if somebody makes a rush at them, they'll only win 93 games," said Anderson.

"If we put any heat on them, I'll be very surprised if they wouldn't back away."

Driessen slammed his 15th home run leading off the inning and Rose followed Seaver's single with his ninth homer to break the game open in the seventh inning.

Browns Like Buzzard

KENT, Ohio (AP) — His Cleveland Browns teammates call Bill Armstrong "Buzzard," and it's not because he has bad breath or eats rodents.

The nickname comes instead from his appearance as the tall, lean defensive safety swoops in on pass receivers.

Cleveland Browns Coach Forrest Gregg said prior to the opening of the football training camp at Kent State University four weeks ago that he was looking for more aggressiveness and speed from his club.

The rookie defender from Wake Forest, an eighth round draft pick, fits both those needs.

Bird Brain Is CB Celebrity

LaGRANGE, Ky. (AP) — "Bird Brain" hardly fits Barney Barnett, who has dedicated his life to his fellow men, but that's the handle he uses and hundreds of truckers respond instantly when he calls "breaker, breaker."

The big, craggy-faced man has become a local CB celebrity in his effort to help people.

Helping people includes fundraising gestures like coming up with money to bury the parents of eight newly orphaned children. He got on the CB and within a few hours, he raised more than $400 from big hearted truckers, many of them strangers passing by on Interstate 71. He acknowledges such solicitations are illegal, but when they're for a good cause, Barnett believes he's doing the right thing.

He also is actively involved in local Radio Emergency-Associated Citizens Teams work.

The 63-year-old former truck driver claims that his fame has spread so far that he's known all around the country and even in foreign countries. The postman delivers mail addressed only to Bird Brain, he says.

Barnett, his wife and 11 children, live just off I-71 at mile marker 22, the "Bird Brain overpass" he calls it.

A year ago, Barnett was fitted with a pacemaker after a heart attack.

"The doctors had given up, but God looked down and said, 'Bird brain, you're going to live and I'm letting you live for a purpose, to help people,'" Barnett said.

One of his CB buddies — named Goldilocks — said she listed more than 400 calls for Bird Brain while he was hospitalized.

Barnett acknowledges trucking was nearly as much fun in the days before CB. He has been on the air about six years, and although he'd like to have a more powerful radio unit, he can't because of his pacemaker.

When he dies, Barnett said he wants to be buried in the median strip near mile marker 22, "So I can hear the trucks go by." He wants a big cross erected and neon lights that spell out "here lies Bird Brain."

Manslaughter Plea Affirmed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Voluntary manslaughter was the charge that should have been made in the first place against Dr. Stuart Kutler in the slaying of his former lover's son, according to criminal lawyers.

Lawyers say that the lesser category was more appropriate than a murder charge because there was no proof that Kutler intended to kill 8-year-old Arthur Noske last Feb. 4.

"Even if the state had been able to produce the boy's body and the jury believed every bit of Ann Noske's testimony," one criminal lawyer said, "it still remained a classic case of manslaughter."

In a surprise move, the Brecksville doctor suddenly ended his murder trial in Cincinnati Monday by pleading guilty to the lesser charge.

Miss Noske testified that Kutler beat Arthur and then disposed of the body, which has never been found.

Voluntary manslaughter is one degree less serious than a charge of murder. A conviction of aggravated murder would have required proof of intent to kill. If death is not intended at the outset, then a homicide is manslaughter, lawyers explained.

If a jury finds that a killing occurred when the offender was under extreme emotional stress brought on by strong provocation, it is bound to return a voluntary manslaughter verdict, as opposed to one of murder.

Kutler faces up to 25 years in prison as opposed to a possible life sentence had he been convicted of murder.

Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan maintained the county grand jury was correct in returning a murder indictment against the 31-year-old doctor.

Kutler was returned to the Cuyahoga County jail in Cleveland Tuesday.

Bird Brain Is CB Celebrity

LaGRANGE, Ky. (AP) — "Bird Brain" hardly fits Barney Barnett, who has dedicated his life to his fellow men, but that's the handle he uses and hundreds of truckers respond instantly when he calls "breaker, breaker."

The big, craggy-faced man has become a local CB celebrity in his effort to help people.

Helping people includes fundraising gestures like coming up with money to bury the parents of eight newly orphaned children. He got on the CB and within a few hours, he raised more than $400 from big hearted truckers, many of them strangers passing by on Interstate 71. He acknowledges such solicitations are illegal, but when they're for a good cause, Barnett believes he's doing the right thing.

He also is actively involved in local Radio Emergency-Associated Citizens Teams work.

The 63-year-old former truck driver claims that his fame has spread so far that he's known all around the country and even in foreign countries. The postman delivers mail addressed only to Bird Brain, he says.

Barnett, his wife and 11 children, live just off I-71 at mile marker 22, the "Bird Brain overpass" he calls it.

A year ago, Barnett was fitted with a pacemaker after a heart attack.

"The doctors had given up, but God looked down and said, 'Bird Brain, you're going to live and I'm letting you live for a purpose, to help people,'" Barnett said.

One of his CB buddies — named Goldilocks — said she listed more than 400 calls for Bird Brain while he was hospitalized.

Barnett acknowledges trucking was nearly as much fun in the days before CB. He has been on the air about six years, and although he'd like to have a more powerful radio unit, he can't because of his pacemaker.

When he dies, Barnett said he wants to be buried in the median strip near mile marker 22, "So I can hear the trucks go by." He wants a big cross erected and neon lights that spell out "here lies Bird Brain."

Manslaughter Plea Affirmed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Voluntary manslaughter was the charge that should have been made in the first place against Dr. Stuart Kutler in the slaying of his former lover's son, according to criminal lawyers.

Lawyers say that the lesser category was more appropriate than a murder charge because there was no proof that Kutler intended to kill 8-year-old Arthur Noske last Feb. 4.

"Even if the state had been able to produce the boy's body and the jury believed every bit of Ann Noske's testimony," one criminal lawyer said, "it still remained a classic case of manslaughter."

In a surprise move, the Brecksville doctor suddenly ended his murder trial in Cincinnati Monday by pleading guilty to the lesser charge.

Miss Noske testified that Kutler beat Arthur and then disposed of the body, which has never been found.

Voluntary manslaughter is one degree less serious than a charge of murder. A conviction of aggravated murder would have required proof of intent to kill. If death is not intended at the outset, then a homicide is manslaughter, lawyers explained.

If a jury finds that a killing occurred when the offender was under extreme emotional stress brought on by strong provocation, it is bound to return a voluntary manslaughter verdict, as opposed to one of murder.

Kutler faces up to 25 years in prison as opposed to a possible life sentence had he been convicted of murder.

Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan maintained the county grand jury was correct in returning a murder indictment against the 31-year-old doctor.

Kutler was returned to the Cuyahoga County jail in Cleveland Tuesday.

WESTFALL CHEERLEADERS — The Westfall eighth grade cheerleading squad attended the Cheerleaders Institute Summer Camp held July 24 through 28. They were accompanied by their advisor Ms. Ann Posey to the University of Dayton Campus. The squad learned several chants, cheers and dance routines. They also won the Spirit Bell, an award voted on by all the squads to determine the hardest working, most improved and most congenial squad. Members of the Junior Mustang Squad are, from the left, Kim McCafferty, Kim Lehman, Theresa Dayhoff and Aggie Johnson. The fifth cheerleader, not pictured, is Jackie Bigam.

Former Inmate Charges Jailer Arranged Sex For Prisoners

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A former female inmate of the Clark County jail has charged that a jailer there arranged sexual activity between men and women prisoners.

The county prosecutor's office says it is investigating allegations by Tia Davis, 19, of Springfield that a former special deputy acting as jailer last February procured her and another female prisoner for sex with male inmates.

Miss Davis, who was jailed between Dec. 7 and Feb. 15, says on several occasions in early February a special deputy who was serving as a jailer allowed male inmates to visit the women's cells for purposes of soliciting sex.

Miss Davis, who is seven months pregnant, has been transferred to the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville. But she says her pregnancy is a result of sexual activity with a male inmate at the county jail.

Clark County Prosecutor James A. Berry said he would present evidence he has gathered on the charges to a grand jury Aug. 25.

Sheriff Donald E. Sanders said he received a complaint from Miss Davis about the jailer shortly after she was taken to Marysville. He said she complained that he was pinching female prisoners on the breasts.

"I checked it out and found no validity to it," Sanders said. "I talked to several women prisoners and they denied it to me. I haven't gone any further with it since the prosecutor is investigating, but I find it hard to believe that it could have happened here."

But a female deputy said she had heard other women inmates complain about sexual advances made by the special deputy.

Miss Davis, who was convicted of grand theft, said the special deputy allowed two male inmates to join her and another woman in a secluded cell several times.

"The special deputy said he couldn't close the big door, but he said he would stand at the end of the hall and watch out while we had sex," Miss Davis said.

She said that the jailer told her she wouldn't be sent to prison if she had sex with the male prisoners.

Miss Davis was released from jail for a 22-hour period beginning Feb. 7, a week before she was sent to Marysville. But she claims she spent the night with her family and saw no men during that time.

The special deputy allegedly involved has been released from employment with the sheriff's department. Sanders said his commission was not renewed because he refused to take a lie detector test during an investigation of money stolen from belongings of the inmates. Special deputies are part-time employees of the sheriff's department, put on duty when extra help is needed.

Consumers' Counsel Seeking Information

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Consumers' Counsel is asking each gas and electric company in the state to report how many persons used federal Community Service Administration funds to pay last winter's utility bills.

The money is being offered to poor and elderly persons who have been unable to pay their heating bills.

Consumers' Counsel William A. Spratley said he is making the request for voluntary participation because the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio refused to allow him to monitor utility participation in the program.

Ohioans have until Aug. 19 to apply for grants from $13.3 million in federal funds provided to subsidize high utility bills from Oct. 1, 1976, to Aug. 31, 1977.

Blast Birth Control Plan

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — President Carter's plan to substitute a federal birth control program for government-funded abortions is not an acceptable alternative for American Catholics, the president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops said here Tuesday.

"President Carter's policy of opposition to federal funding for elective abortions deserves our support," Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati said. "At the same time, one must hope that the Administration will not proceed to press for massive, federally backed family planning programs as an alternative to abortion. For this would represent an unprecedented and unacceptable governmental intrusion into family life."

The prelate spoke to 1,600 officers and delegates of the Knights of Columbus Supreme Council, meeting here this week for their 95th convention.

Lima Blasts Caused By Gas Leaks

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Gasoline leaking from a Ford Motor Co. plant in Lima seeped into the city's sewer system Tuesday and caused several explosions but only one minor injury, officials said.

At least 5,000 gallons of gasoline flowed from a ruptured line that leads from an underground storage tank to a building where engines made at the plant are tested.

Cleanup efforts were underway as Ford officials helped the city skim gasoline off sewer water and add coagulants to absorb the fuel.

"There's no real danger now," said James Schmenk, Lima sanitary engineer.

Bob Bierman, a Ford spokesman said the company did not know how long the gasoline had leaked from the pipe before it was discovered.

The fuel seepage into the sewer system caused explosions that blew manhole covers off sidewalks and doors off a pump station in a four-block area.

Firemen checked out structures for the smell of gasoline, but no homes were evacuated in this northwestern Ohio community of 53,000 persons.

City workers managed to isolate the sewage from the fourblock area to keep it out of the waste water treatment plant.

The explosions began about 10:30 a.m. at a sewage pump station by a recreation park, sending one of the station's doors 30 feet in the air and shattering the other. Windows were also shattered. A sewer official estimated damage at $2,000.

The archbishop also rejected recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions limiting access to abortions as a satisfactory compromise to a Constitutional ban on abortions.

The decisions held there is no Constitutional right to a government-funded abortion and no obligation for public hospitals to perform the operations.

"The fact that the court recognizes that government is not obligated to pay for medically unnecessary abortions does not correct the court's tragic, fundamental error in legalizing abortion in the first place," the archbishop said. "It is important that the court's recent decisions not be regarded as the basis for an acceptable social compromise on abortion."

Catholics must increase their efforts to pass a Constitutional amendment "restoring full legal protection to human life at all stages of development, before and after birth," Archbishop Bernardin said.

"There is dismaying evidence that disrespect for life extends not only to the unborn, but at the other end of life's spectrum, to the aged and infirm," he said.

The archbishop cited a recent Department of Health Education and Welfare memorandum suggesting federal pressure to authorize "living wills."

The wills guarantee that no one who becomes terminally ill is kept alive by artificial means against his wishes.

The archbishop said the memorandum suggested the government could save at least $1.2 billion in Medicare costs if the wills were legalized nationwide.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day for accomplishment! Put out feelers to gain new perspective, a broadened viewpoint, a variety of opinion. Business deals favored.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may have some revisions to make, but the general outlook indicates gain in most areas. A special reward may come from an unexpected source.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Good Mercury influences should stimulate your ingenuity and unusual ideas. Present the latter at strategic moments. They should be accepted with enthusiasm now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You may have a complex program. Tackle it with unobtrusive but solid determination, however. Back what you should stoutly, but avoid being sharp with others.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Excellent solar influences. You will not have to strain to accomplish now. A good period for building up your potentials, reviving a project previously set aside.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): It may occur to you to try to imitate another to get results. But think again. Your own methods could prove more advantageous in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Your artistry and creativity stimulated. A time for taking your truly original ideas out of the thought stage and putting them into action.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Avoid extremes. There's a tendency now to make mountains of molehills, to lose control of temper, emotions generally. Forewarned is forearmed!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Good Jupiter influences. Intellectual pursuits should prove highly stimulating. Do not overestimate your set-up, however. You may have to wait out SOME results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Curb emotions and a tendency toward eccentricity. Tighten reins on spending but don't scrimp unwisely and lose out in the long run.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): When you believe in anything, your enthusiasm is so intense it is contagious, so make sure you are correct in your beliefs. A day in which your influence will be strongly felt.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some questionable schemes may be suggested. Be alert — and reject promptly. Also, avoid unconventional behavior, extremes in word or action.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely versatile individual, highly ambitious and magnetic of personality. Like most Leos, you have a passion for the theater but, should you choose the stage as a career, would make a better director or producer than an actor. With a gift for writing and keen discrimination, you could also excel as a dramatic critic. You have excellent business and financial acumen; could become a leader in the commercial world. Other outlets for your talents: journalism, the law, sports, science. Traits to curb: impulsiveness, arrogance. Birthdate of: Meriwether Lewis, explorer; Hayley Mills, film star.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day for accomplishment! Put out feelers to gain new perspective, a broadened viewpoint, a variety of opinion. Business deals favored.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may have some revisions to make, but the general outlook indicates gain in most areas. A special reward may come from an unexpected source.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Good Mercury influences should stimulate your ingenuity and unusual ideas. Present the latter at strategic moments. They should be accepted with enthusiasm now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): It may occur to you to try to imitate another to get results. But think again. Your own methods could prove more advantageous in the long run.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Excellent solar influences. You will not have to strain to accomplish now. A good period for building up your potentials, reviving a project previously set aside.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): It may occur to you to try to imitate another to get results. But think again. Your own methods could prove more advantageous in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Your artistry and creativity stimulated. A time for taking your truly original ideas out of the thought stage and putting them into action.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Avoid extremes. There's a tendency now to make mountains of molehills, to lose control of temper, emotions generally. Forewarned is forearmed!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Good Jupiter influences. Intellectual pursuits should prove highly stimulating. Do not overestimate your set-up, however. You may have to wait out some results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Curb emotions and a tendency toward eccentricity. Tighten reins on spending but don't scrimp unwisely and lose out in the long run.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): When you believe in anything, your enthusiasm is so intense it is contagious, so make sure you are correct in your beliefs. A day in which your influence will be strongly felt.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some questionable schemes may be suggested. Be alert — and reject promptly. Also, avoid unconventional behavior, extremes in word or action.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely versatile individual, highly ambitious and magnetic of personality. Like most Leoites, you have a passion for the theater but, should you choose the stage as a career, would make a better director or producer than an actor. With a gift for writing and keen discrimination, you could also excel as a dramatic critic. You have excellent business and financial acumen; could become a leader in the commercial world. Other outlets for your talents: journalism, the law, sports, science. Traits to curb: impulsiveness, arrogance. Birthdate of: Meriwether Lewis, explorer; Hayley Mills, film star.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As a rule, docu-dramas — dramatized recreations of actual stories — are produced by entertainment types. But now there's a notable exception to the rule: Robert "Shad" Northshield of NBC News.

Now on loan from NBC News to the network's entertainment side, Northshield, a journalist most of his life, starts producing a docu-drama, "Survivors of Buffalo Creek," on Sept. 12 for NBC.

It stars Tony Perkins, who is entirely on videotape, and is about the West Virginia dam disaster that claimed 125 lives in 1972.

It's a radical change in the career of the man who produced the old "Huntley-Brinkley Report" for nearly four years and later made such respected NBC News documentaries as "Guilty by Reason of Race," "The Navajo Way" and "Sins of the Fathers."

Northshield, who began in journalism after World War II service as an infantryman, was asked why NBC's entertainment side tapped him for the two-hour Buffalo Creek show it'll air later this season.

It happened the other way around, he said: "I went to them."

He said several things prompted his move. One was that he was restless — his last major NBC News assignment had been as executive producer of NBC's July 4 Bicentennial coverage a year ago.

Another factor was that he'd become impressed with the popularity of such docu-dramas as "Missiles of October" and "Helter-Skelter."

"It seemed to me a guy who'd done a lot of (news) documentary stuff could make a living at that, and also it'd be a lot of fun," he said by phone from his NBC office in New York.

And, he said, various NBC executives liked his docu-drama proposals, among them Richard C. Wald, president of NBC News.

"He'd wanted to do these things — like a re-enactment of the Watergate tapes, things of that sort — but was prevented from doing so because it was decided the news side couldn't use actors," he said.

NBC's heads of non-news shows, Irwin Segelstein and Paul Klein, liked the idea of a staffer doing docu-dramas, and NBC's business affairs chief, Don Carswell, liked it from a cost standpoint, he added.

As a result, Northshield is producing not only the Buffalo Creek show, but two other docu-dramas later on.

Off-Broadway dramatist David Epstein wrote the script of the first effort, Frank "David and Lisa," Perry is directing it, "and I'm the nonfiction nut," Northshield said.

"So we all come at it from different angles. ... I don't know a damn thing about how to cast a drama. On the other hand, Frank or David aren't all that interested in being sure it's absolutely accurate."

"But I am. Because I'm 55 years old, I've always done news for a living and I'm not about to become a fiction freak."

Carter Accused Of Ignoring Congress In Canal Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee, accusing the Carter administration of ignoring Congress in agreeing to a proposed new Panama Canal treaty, wants the President's negotiators to explain the pact at a special hearing.

Ambassadors Sol Linowitz and Ellsworth Bunker are planning to testify today before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, panel aides said. Two State Department officials also were to appear.

Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., the committee's chairman, said in a statement announcing the hearing that the panel "is not prepared to watch the American canal in Panama go down the drain — or to allow its constitutional rights to be violated."

Carter evidently has decided to press for Senate ratification of the treaty after the August recess. The President also faces stiff resistance in the House, where opponents charge the treaty would be a "giveaway" of U.S. property, and risks letting the canal fall into communist hands.

Murphy's committee exercises control over budget authorization and appropriations for operating the canal.

Committee sources said some objections to the treaty were based on fears that it would increase sharply the amount of money the United States pays Panama annually. Some committee members reportedly also fear that the pact would give Panama too large a voice in running the canal before the year 2000, when the waterway is to come under Panamanian control.

Opponents also object to turning over the Canal Zone, with its numerous U.S.-built facilities, to Panama. They disagree with the Carter administration's position that the United States enjoys property "rights," but not ownership, in the 10-mile-wide zone.

Murphy called it "no accident" that a Soviet "economic team" was recently in Panama working out what he said were commercial agreements with the government led by Panamanian President Omar Torrijos.

The Carter administration already has won support from former President Gerald R. Ford and former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for the treaty.

Ford, who was briefed Tuesday by Linowitz and Gen. George Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said he would "do what I can" to win support for the treaty among conservative Republicans.

He labeled the pact "an important step forward" and called for prompt Senate ratification.

Kissinger announced his support Tuesday after a meeting with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance.

Kissinger met with Vance after an earlier session with Bunker and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. David Jones.

Buckley Appointed To CTC Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ronald L. Buckley of Cincinnati has been appointed by Gov. James A. Rhodes to a three-year term on the board of trustees of Cincinnati Technical College.

Buckley is executive vice president of Deer Park Suede and Leather Inc. and is president of Suede and Leather Finishers of America.

Nitrate Control Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — With three agencies now involved, the government is about six weeks away from its first steps against the amount of nitrites and nitrosamines to which humans are exposed.

An advisory Agriculture Department panel of scientists, consumer affairs specialists and nutritionists, working against a Sept. 30 deadline, planned to hear individual members' views today on the issues to be included in its final report.

USDA has authority over the use of sodium nitrite and sodium nitrate in red meats, but the Food and Drug Administration has more clear-cut jurisdiction for regulating their use in poultry, the two agencies have agreed.

The chemicals have been used for generations to give meat an appealing color, to cure meat products designed to have a long shelf life and to help prevent growth of bacteria that can cause food poisoning and deadly botulism.

Nitrites now are generally added directly to products in the early processing, but can be formed chemically from nitrates.

Under certain conditions, such as quick frying, and in combination with certain amino acids or proteins, nitrites form nitrosamines, some of which have been found to cause cancer in laboratory animals.

The Environmental Protection Agency has jurisdiction over the nitrosamines in pesticides, including one used widely for weed control in fields of soybeans, beans, peas, peppers, sugar beets and tomatoes. That increases the amount of the chemicals in the environment that can enter human digestive tracts, where the damage would be done.

Those nitrosamines form during manufacturing of the pesticides or from chemical reactions in the packages.

The EPA, in announcing earlier this month a major review of the pesticides involved, noted that nitrites and nitrosamines occur naturally in soil, air and water, as well as because of pollution of those resources.

But it added that the major sources of human exposure are cigarette smoke and cured meats.

State Fair Swings To Second Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The sideshow barkers' comeons had settled into a comfortable routine, the swine had been weighed in and the Bay City Rollers had thrilled a teenage audience as the Ohio State Fair swung into its second session today.

The big prizes for anxious livestock breeders won't come until later in the fair when the Sale of Champions is expected to bring some lucky owner more than the $32,000 bid last year for the top steer. The sale is scheduled for Monday.

"I've told them at Wendy's that they'd better bring $33,000 this year," Gov. James A. Rhodes said. Rhodes owns a substantial interest in the hamburger chain.

"We're about normal," a secretary in the fair public relations office said Tuesday as she put down the telephone after hearing a complaint.

"A mother was upset about the price for the New Howdy Doozy Show," she said.

Meanwhile, seven young men arrested before dawn Tuesday for disrupting the fair's official opening and throwing a pie in the governor's face were scheduled for arraignment today in Columbus Municipal Court on charges ranging from misdemeanor assault and resisting arrest to disrupting a lawful meeting.

Steven E. Conliff, 27, of Columbus, is charged with assault for allegedly hurling the pie at Rhodes, Capt. Thomas Rice of the Highway Patrol said.

The group was protesting the construction of a gym at Kent State University near the site where four students were killed and nine wounded by National Guard gunfire during an antiwar protest seven years ago. Rhodes had ordered the troops to the campus.

Today popular singer Helen Reddy will repeat her 4:30 p.m. grandstand performance at 8:30 tonight. Fats Domino will be on stage Thursday at the same times. Former Fifth Dimension singers Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis Jr. replace the Fats on Friday. All grandstand shows are free.

Contract Talks Set By Dayton Policemen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Contract negotiations between police and city officials were tentatively scheduled to resume today as the Fraternal Order of Police continued to threaten work slowdowns and traffic ticketing speed-ups if their demands are not met.

The FOP action committee has recommended that the 479 police officers respond only to emergency calls and that off-duty police harass city officials by causing disturbances outside their homes and following them.

Police in this southwestern Ohio city of 241,000 have authorized their union executive committee to call a strike if negotiations fail. They have worked without a contract since March 1. But union officials say a walkout is not imminent.

Police Chief Grover O'Connor said he monitored police broadcasts through the evening Monday and didn't feel there was a slowdown. He said it would take a couple days before the effects of a slowdown would be visible.

FOP President Ronald Brandenburg said the union has arranged for an independent audit of the city's financial records in order to determine whether the city's budget is as tight as indicated by city officials.

The policemen are seeking an hourly wage hike of $1.08 to boost starting pay to $7.86 the first year and a 46-cent an hour raise to $8.32 in the second year. The FOP is seeking a 15-cent an hour cost of living allowance, and a 12-cent an hour medical insurance allowance.

The city's latest offer is 18 cents an hour the first year, 20 cents the second year, and the same cost of living and medical allowances.

The city just recovered from a firefighters' walkout which lasted 59 hours last week. During that time more than 15 fires occurred.

State fire marshal's investigators say they might insist that witnesses testify under oath and offer rewards up to $10,000 as they investigate the possibility of arson in those fires.

Carter Accused Of Ignoring Congress In Canal Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee, accusing the Carter administration of ignoring Congress in agreeing to a proposed new Panama Canal treaty, wants the President's negotiators to explain the pact at a special hearing.

Ambassadors Sol Linowitz and Ellsworth Bunker are planning to testify today before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, panel aides said. Two State Department officials also were to appear.

Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., the committee's chairman, said in a statement announcing the hearing that the panel "is not prepared to watch the American canal in Panama go down the drain — or to allow its constitutional rights to be violated."

Carter evidently has decided to press for Senate ratification of the treaty after the August recess. The President also faces stiff resistance in the House, where opponents charge the treaty would be a "giveaway" of U.S. property, and risks letting the canal fall into communist hands.

Murphy's committee exercises control over budget authorization and appropriations for operating the canal. Committee sources said some objections to the treaty were based on fears that it would increase sharply the amount of money the United States pays Panama annually. Some committee members reportedly also fear that the pact would give Panama too large a voice in running the canal before the year 2000, when the waterway is to come under Panamanian control.

Opponents also object to turning over the Canal Zone, with its numerous U.S.-built facilities, to Panama. They disagree with the Carter administration's position that the United States enjoys property "rights," but not ownership, in the 10-mile-wide zone.

Murphy called it "no accident" that a Soviet "economic team" was recently in Panama working out what he said were commercial agreements with the government led by Panamanian President Omar Torrijos.

The Carter administration already has won support from former President Gerald R. Ford and former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for the treaty.

Ford, who was briefed Tuesday by Linowitz and Gen. George Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said he would "do what I can" to win support for the treaty among conservative Republicans.

He labeled the pact "an important step forward" and called for prompt Senate ratification.

Kissinger announced his support Tuesday after a meeting with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance.

Kissinger met with Vance after an earlier session with Bunker and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. David Jones.

Buckley Appointed To CTC Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ronald L. Buckley of Cincinnati has been appointed by Gov. James A. Rhodes to a three-year term on the board of trustees of Cincinnati Technical College.

Buckley is executive vice president of Deer Park Suede and Leather Inc. and is president of Suede and Leather Finishers of America.

Nitrate Control Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — With three agencies now involved, the government is about six weeks away from its first steps against the amount of nitrites and nitrosamines to which humans are exposed.

An advisory Agriculture Department panel of scientists, consumer affairs specialists and nutritionists, working against a Sept. 30 deadline, planned to hear individual members' views today on the issues to be included in its final report.

USDA has authority over the use of sodium nitrite and sodium nitrate in red meats, but the Food and Drug Administration has more clear-cut jurisdiction for regulating their use in poultry, the two agencies have agreed.

The chemicals have been used for generations to give meat an appealing color, to cure meat products designed to have a long shelf life and to help prevent growth of bacteria that can cause food poisoning and deadly botulism.

Nitrites now are generally added directly to products in the early processing, but can be formed chemically from nitrates.

Under certain conditions, such as quick frying, and in combination with certain amino acids or proteins, nitrites form nitrosamines, some of which have been found to cause cancer in laboratory animals.

The Environmental Protection Agency has jurisdiction over the nitrosamines in pesticides, including one used widely for weed control in fields of soybeans, beans, peas, peppers, sugar beets and tomatoes. That increases the amount of the chemicals in the environment that can enter human digestive tracts, where the damage would be done.

Those nitrosamines form during manufacturing of the pesticides or from chemical reactions in the packages.

The EPA, in announcing earlier this month a major review of the pesticides involved, noted that nitrites and nitrosamines occur naturally in soil, air and water, as well as because of pollution of those resources.

But it added that the major sources of human exposure are cigarette smoke and cured meats.

State Fair Swings To Second Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The sideshow barkers' come-ons had settled into a comfortable routine, the swine had been weighed in and the Bay City Rollers had thrilled a teenage audience as the Ohio State Fair swung into its second session today.

The big prizes for anxious livestock breeders won't come until later in the fair when the Sale of Champions is expected to bring some lucky owner more than the $32,000 bid last year for the top steer. The sale is scheduled for Monday.

"I've told them at Wendy's that they'd better bring $33,000 this year," Gov. James A. Rhodes said. Rhodes owns a substantial interest in the hamburger chain.

"We're about normal," a secretary in the fair public relations office said Tuesday as she put down the telephone after hearing a complaint.

"A mother was upset about the price for the New Howdy Doody Show," she said.

Meanwhile, seven young men arrested before dawn Tuesday for disrupting the fair's official opening and throwing a pie in the governor's face were scheduled for arraignment today in Columbus Municipal Court on charges ranging from misdemeanor assault and resisting arrest to disrupting a lawful meeting.

Steven E. Conliff, 27, of Columbus, is charged with assault for allegedly hurling the pie at Rhodes, Capt. Thomas Rice of the Highway Patrol said.

The group was protesting the construction of a gym at Kent State University near the site where four students were killed and nine wounded by National Guard gunfire during an antiwar protest seven years ago. Rhodes had ordered the troops to the campus.

Today popular singer Helen Reddy will repeat her 4:30 p.m. grandstand performance at 8:30 tonight. Fats Domino will be on stage Thursday at the same times. Former Fifth Dimension singers Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis Jr. replace the Fats on Friday. All grandstand shows are free.

Contract Talks Set By Dayton Policemen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Contract negotiations between police and city officials were tentatively scheduled to resume today as the Fraternal Order of Police continued to threaten work slowdowns and traffic ticketing speed-ups if their demands are not met.

The FOP action committee has recommended that the 479 police officers respond only to emergency calls and that off-duty police harass city officials by causing disturbances outside their homes and following them.

Police in this southwestern Ohio city of 241,000 have authorized their union executive committee to call a strike if negotiations fail. They have worked without a contract since March 1. But union officials say a walkout is not imminent.

Police Chief Grover O'Connor said he monitored police broadcasts through the evening Monday and didn't feel there was a slowdown. He said it would take a couple days before the effects of a slowdown would be visible.

FOP President Ronald Brandenburg said the union has arranged for an independent audit of the city's financial records in order to determine whether the city's budget is as tight as indicated by city officials.

The policemen are seeking an hourly wage hike of $1.08 to boost starting pay to $7.86 the first year and a 46-cent an hour raise to $8.32 in the second year. The FOP is seeking a 15-cent an hour cost of living allowance, and a 12-cent an hour medical insurance allowance.

The city's latest offer is 18 cents an hour the first year, 20 cents the second year, and the same cost of living and medical allowances.

The city just recovered from a firefighters' walkout which lasted 59 hours last week. During that time more than 15 fires occurred.

State fire marshal's investigators say they might insist that witnesses testify under oath and offer rewards up to $10,000 as they investigate the possibility of arson in those fires.

Rhodes Fills Vacancy On Disabilities Council

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Romola Hopkins of Athens has been appointed by Gov. James A. Rhodes to the Developmental Disabilities State Planning Council to fill an unexpired term which ends Sept. 30, 1979.
